HALT STRIKES! BYRD DEMANDS OF ROOSEVELT

Senator Calls Them Peril to Nation.

Winchester, Va., May 25 [Special].—Senator Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] called on President Roosevelt tonight to make it clear in his broadcast on Tuesday night that the wave of strikes which is menacing the national armament program will no longer be tolerated.

Senator Byrd.

"Our government can no longer compromise in this vital issue without imperiling our national safety to a most dangerous degree," Byrd said. "The disastrous effect of such strikes must no longer be minimized by the administration. No class of citizens, be they laborers or industrialists, has the right to jeopardize our nation in this emergency.

Demands "Positive" Stand.

"A clear cut, definite, and positive statement from our government is imperative.

"It is futile as it is absurd to continue to talk about giving greater and quicker aid to Great Britain unless we are willing to do the things necessary to produce the military equipment Britain so urgently needs. At the time of her greatest peril, defense strikes in recent months have deprived England of much vitally needed military equipment, and at the same time our own preparations have been measurably delayed.

"Strikes continue. As soon as one is settled, others begin, and the aggregate loss is a continuing menace to our republic. John L. Lewis announces with his characteristic arrogance that he refuses to arbitrate the coal disputes, and another coal shutdown is imminent."

"Selfish and Subversive."

Byrd said that in west coast shipyards 500 million dollars' worth of "vital defense contracts is being held up by strikes instigated, according to Assistant Secretary of Navy Bard, 'by selfish and subversive elements.'"

"These shipyard strikes," Byrd's statement continued, "begun two weeks ago, have not as yet been certified by Secretary of Labor Perkins for action to the National Defense Mediation board, another evidence of the gross inefficiency and ineptness of Miss Perkins."

CALLS STRIKERS TRAITORS

Strikers in industries coöperating in the national preparedness program were branded as traitors last night by Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state during the latter part of President Wilson's administration. He described their strikes as mutiny and demanded that the Roosevelt administration curb them.

The former Democratic cabinet member spoke at the closing meeting of the 34th season of the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall. Another speaker was Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, former commander of the 6th army corps. Capt. Thomas Ambrose, Cook county chief of the GAR, read Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Wars Won in Shops, He Says.

"We are told," said Colby, "that modern wars are fought and won in the shops of industry, not on the field of battle. In other words, the workers of the nation are as much a part of our military strength as the soldiers in camp or in trenches. If this is true, and I believe it, then the workers who throw down their tools are as truly traitors to their country as soldiers who throw down their arms.

"Here is a vital task for the administration to perform, a duty it cannot evade—the curbing of this too prevalent type of mutiny at home. It is a duty which must not be sidestepped or fumbled. As to this, there is no cleavage of opinion among our people—no disunity."

Calls Unity Vital in War.

Colby added that without complete unity a democracy cannot wage war.

Colby said that the preparedness program eventually will get into full swing in spite of reports indicating confusion, absence of coördination, and lack of sound direction. He wound up with a plea that interventionists and noninterventionists display tolerance toward each other in their arguments.

COINS AND CURRENCY OF CROATIA WILL BE MADE IN GERMANY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 25.—Bank notes and coins of the new kingdom of Croatia will be literally "made in Germany." The old Jugo-Slav currency, the dinar, will vanish from the newly founded state, to be supplanted by the ancient Croatian unit of exchange called the "kuna."

The original meaning of the word is "one skin of a marten," and was employed in the middle ages to denote the unit of value customary in that part of the Balkans, a favorite haunt of the valuable fur bearing little animal.

The German state mint will issue the new coinage and a German printing firm will produce the notes. The "kuna" will be subdivided into units of 100 "banica."

The present rate of exchange for the new currency is given as 20 kuna for one reichsmark, or about 50 to the dollar. This is also the rate of exchange for the old Jugo-Slav dinar, which will remain in use in Serbia.

Rosa and Tony Are Happy on a Golden Day

BY KERMIT HOLT.

Donato [Tony] Meccia, who landed at Castle Garden, N. Y., in 1886 with one dollar and a piece of bologna, had his day yesterday.

Tony is a bootblack. For 53 of his 68 years he has made the rounds of the near west side clothing district, selling shoe shines and passing out smiles and funny stories.

Shoe shining has been his only work since he left his birthplace in Ricigliano, Italy, a small town 100 miles northeast of Naples. But thru his earnings of about $20 a week he and his wife have reared and educated 10 children.

It's Their Golden Wedding.

Yesterday Tony and Rosa celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. And the fellows who see him every day along the Franklin street clothing district showed Tony how much they like him.

Four hundred persons packed the Church of the Assumption, 313 West Illinois street, where the Meccias were married 50 years ago, as the Rev. Tom Farrazzi celebrated a mass for "Mr. and Mrs. Tony." Another 400 stood outside and cheered Tony and Rosa as they left the church.

Right there on the sidewalk they showered him with gifts. Everybody came up to shake his hand. There were executives of clothing companies, clerks, salesmen, secretaries, elevator operators, janitors, and office boys.

The Whole Family's There.

Then Tony and his wife went to their home at 3438 Lexington street for breakfast. Their four sons, six daughters, and 20 grandchildren were there. They helped Mr. and Mrs. Tony open nearly 500 telegrams and letters of congratulations. One even came from South America.

All day long the Meccias received callers. Tony got out his wooden shoe shine box and showed it. He told of the early days of Chicago and of the shoe shining business.

Last night Tony and his wife were guests at a dinner in the Midwest Athletic club, 6 North Hamlin street. Some 600 persons attended. There were speeches and more gifts. There was dancing to Italian folk tunes, and plenty of red wine.

At the dinner Tony made a speech: "I think you're the most wonderful people in the world. Thank you." He wiped his eyes and sat down.

Rosa kissed him. "I feel like a bride all over again," she said. "I've got a wonderful man."

The 10 children gathered around and raised Tony to their shoulders—Antoinette, George, Frank, the twins Lucile and Della, Mildred, Joseph, Lawrence, Anna and Theresa.

Sons Are Successes, Too.

The four sons are successful: George is a clothing designer; Frank, a plumbing engineer; Joseph, a sanitary engineer; and Lawrence, a statistician. All the daughters except Lucille and Theresa are married.

"Thank you," Tony told them. "I've got the most wonderful family in the world, too."

It was after midnight before everybody started home.

"I'll get a few hours' sleep and be on the job at 8:30 in the morning," Tony said.

A ROBIN REARS BROOD IN RAIL YARD; ANOTHER HATCHES OUT ALBINOS

Personal items—for robins only:

The noise and bustle of the Chicago Great Western railroad yards at Laramie avenue and Roosevelt road would not seem to provide a natural habitat for wild life. Nevertheless, a robin's nest has been perched on a rod beneath a busy railroad crane in the yards for at least three weeks. The mama robin, protected by railroad workers, unconcernedly went about the business of hatching her eggs, and nowadays is feeding her several youngsters.

Another mama robin, who set up housekeeping on the grounds of the home of William W. Lill, president of the Lill Coal company, at 119 Abingdon court, Kenilworth, has something to crow about. It's her baby albino robin — which ornithologists say is a rare bird. The baby's plumage is all white, and it has pink eyes. Mrs. Lill said there were two of the baby albinos last week, but one apparently has left home.

Attendants at the bird house in the Lincoln park zoo said the bird house once had an albino crow, but it has never owned an albino robin.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, May 25.—King George II. of Greece arrived in Egypt from Crete today after an escape from German parachute troops, bombs, and his own soldiers, who mistook him for a German soldier.

King George.

His first act after arrival in Egypt was to issue a proclamation calling upon the Greek nation to continue the fight and urging it to have confidence "in final victory."

King George soon will leave Egypt for British territory [England itself, the British radio said] where the monarch declared Greece's "lawful government" would continue to function.

Urged to Leave by British.

The king left Crete in answer to a plea by Gen. B. C. Freyberg, New Zealander, commander of all the British and Greek forces on the island. The king left, it was said, "because remaining there would have required troops to guard him and thus deplete the fighting forces."

The king's dramatic and difficult odyssey began soon after the Germans attacked Crete on the morning of May 20. The Nazis struck at 6 a. m., bombers leading the way with heavy attacks. Then came hordes of troop carriers and gliders. Parachutists filled the sky near the king's home, outside the city of Canea.

The decision that the king should leave was made at 10 a. m., four hours after the first German attack. He set out afoot, guided by Col. J. H. Blunt, of the British army, and protected by a platoon of New Zealand troops. Each soldier carried a submachine gun and 200 rounds of ammunition.

Residence Seized by Nazis.

Soon after the party had departed the king's residence was captured, apparently by the troops from gliders which were seen to land in the garden adjoining the house.

Struggling over a 7,000 foot mountain, the king and his companions passed the first night in a cave belonging to a Cretan farmer. The only food was bread, cheese, and mutton.

The New Zealand troop escort during the day had exchanged shots with German parachutists at a range of only 800 yards. Later in the day the king's party was attacked mistakenly by two Greek patrols.

King Rides a Mule.

That was Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday were less perilous as far as actual combat was concerned, but the going was none the less difficult. The king by this time had acquired a mule for the passage over the hills and thru the valleys toward the south coast, where the British rescue ship was to be boarded.

The coast was reached late Thursday afternoon. Then followed hours of waiting for the rescue ship. A sheltered point near the beach offered the king protection from marauding German warplanes.

The rescue vessel—it was a British destroyer—finally appeared late that night. Its identity at first unknown, a British diplomat was sent out in a small boat to investigate. He proved the ship to be British, returned, and the king and his companions then boarded a Greek sailing vessel, which

Convoys Mean Shooting, Nazi Chief Agrees

BERLIN, May 25 (AP).—Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander of the German navy, in an interview tonight warned the United States that American convoys for materials going to England would constitute an "open war act" that would be prevented by guns of the German navy, if necessary. He issued the warning two days before a scheduled speech by President Roosevelt.

Erich Raeder.

The interview was given to the Berlin representative of Domei, Japanese news agency, and was issued here by DNB, official German news agency.

Admiral Raeder declared he could only confirm the view of President Roosevelt: "Convoys mean shooting."

Convoys Viewed as "Attack."

"Since the nature of the cargoes of convoyed ships, according to American admissions, was established from the very beginning as contraband," Admiral Raeder declared, "resort to this type of convoy system would not be a neutral convoy in the sense of international law or American treaties but an open war act and a bare, unprovoked attack.

"German naval forces would therefore be justified in taking measures against these contraband carriers according to the law of sea warfare, and would, by exercise of these rights, have to repulse with arms, if necessary, any hindrance, even against American warships."

Admiral Raeder was equally sharp concerning the American patrol system, declaring it is "aggressive" in character. He said nobody could expect a German sea commander to stand idly by while "his position was reported to the enemy by an American warship, certainly not when a patrol ship follows him so long that strong British sea forces can be called up not only to hinder him in the execution of his task but also to destroy his ship and crew."

Armed Resistance Threatened.

He added:

"He [the commander] faces in this case, just as in the case of convoys, an actual warlike act and is justified, according to the recognized rules of war, to demand cessation of hostile actions by the ship involved and, if necessary, to enforce it with arms."

Admiral Raeder said the German navy regards possible results of American efforts to see that war materials reach England as "very serious."

"Not only the press but responsible members of the North American government," he said, "have expressed themselves so that no doubt can exist over the aggressive character and conflict with international law of measures already taken and, above all, of those further proposed."

U. S. Safe from Sea Attack.

The grand admiral declared no expert could regard an attack on America over the ocean as possible and that "whoever imputes aggressive intentions to Germany does it against their better knowledge and with the intention of justifying their own aggressive plans and own will to interfere."

"The worry of the war agitators," he added, "is not a German attack but that they have not succeeded in creating the desired incident."

Admiral Raeder said that since the patrol system "already amounts practically to support of the British navy, we can only warn urgently against its extension."

He said the system was serving no defensive purpose, but rather was a communication service for the British.

Raeder warned neutral ships not to travel with dimmed lights since in "modern war technique it is in the interest of one's own safety to fire on every ship with dimmed lights."

THE PLEDGE

President Roosevelt, on October 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

"The purpose of our defense is defense."

Urges European Truce

Valley Forge, Pa., May 25 (AP).—Representative John E. Rankin [D., Miss.] expressed the hope today that the national administration would take steps to bring about a truce in the European war. Speaking at the observance of Mississippi day at Valley Forge National park, he declared: "We are in sympathy with the British people. I believe the collapse of the British empire would be a world disaster. If an agreement could be reached now that would save the British empire intact as well as the British navy, in my opinion it would be far better than plunging this country into a war, the consequences of which no man can foresee."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—On the eve of President Roosevelt's speech to the world next Tuesday on American participation in the war, Great Britain's naval disaster has drawn the lines tighter between the war and anti-war parties in the United States.

Leaders of the war party evoke from the destruction of the British battle cruiser Hood in battle with the Germans the argument that Britain desperately needs the help of the American navy to stave off defeat.

Risk Losing U. S. Ships.

Leaders of the anti-war contingent see in the fate of the Hood a graphic demonstration that the employment of our navy to convoy or otherwise protect arms cargoes from the Nazis would get us completely into a shooting war. Moreover, they argue, we would risk losing American warships in defense of Britain that will be sorely needed in our own defense if our jeopardy is what the President depicts.

"The sinking of the Hood," said Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], noninterventionist leader, "is irrefutable evidence that if we start convoying or otherwise protecting ships bound to England or using our navy in any way to defend Britain we are going to find ourselves a full-fledged belligerent in a shooting war—the actual war the President had in mind when he said that 'convoys mean shooting and shooting means war.'

Sunk on Arms Cargo Route.

"The Hood was sunk on the route of the arms cargo convoys within the western hemisphere. Its fate might very well be that of any of our warships, if assigned to convoy duty, or even of those of our warships now assigned to patrol of the steamship lanes between the United States and England.

"The sinking of an American warship by the Germans would without doubt precipitate the nation into war—a disastrous war for the United States even if we should win it, for its cost and the dictatorship it would entail would destroy our democratic form of government."

Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], a militant interventionist, viewed the loss of the Hood as evidence that Britannia no longer rules the waves and is doomed to defeat unless America goes speedily to her aid with the American navy and all other resources.

Insists on Convoying Ships.

"The fate of the Hood," he said, "demonstrates the necessity of immediate action by our country to give the utmost aid to Britain. If our war aid can reach Britain in no other way we must convoy it there. I know that where there is convoying there may be shooting and where there is shooting there may be war. But there is no alternative to convoying except submission to Hitler and that is no alternative for a people who believe in human freedom. We must convoy now or fight later. I say: Convoy now."

Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.] proposed that the United States transfer immediately a substantial number of war vessels to the British or Canadian navies for use in convoy service.

Asserting that this might solve the problem of getting war supplies to Great Britain, Norris said he felt the time had come for this country to

"AIR-COOLED"

BRITISH FLEET SEEKS REVENGE FOR HOOD LOSS

Pursues Nazi Heavy Units in North Atlantic.

Claim Battleship Hit

BERLIN, May 25 (AP).—The German high command announced today a British battleship of the new King George V., class was damaged and forced to retire in the North Atlantic battle in which the 42,000 ton British battle cruiser Hood was sunk on Saturday by the new 35,000 ton German battleship Bismarck. "German naval forces continue their operations without losses," the high command added.

[The King George V., and Prince of Wales, each 35,000 tons, are the only ships of this class admittedly in operation. The British were silent about the German report.]

LONDON, May 25 (AP).—Vengeance hungry, the British fleet furrowed the North Atlantic tonight in pursuit of heavy units of the resurgent German navy, trying, as the admiralty put it, to bring the Nazis to "close action."

With aerial torpedoes, the fleet air arm was reported already to have blasted into the Germans, scoring at least one hit, and "operations are still proceeding."

The British were seeking a knock down drag out battle to settle Germany's bold challenge to surface control of the Atlantic which was strikingly driven home early yesterday when the 15 inch guns of the new 35,000 ton battleship Bismarck blasted the battle cruiser Hood apart with a hit on her magazine.

Pride of British Navy.

The 42,100 ton Hood, largest fighting ship in the world and hitherto the pride of his majesty's navy, went to the bottom between Greenland and Iceland, carrying most of her 1,300 odd officers and men to their death. It was the war's worst single blow to Britain's seapower.

Last evening British torpedo planes, combining reconnaissance with action, attacked the German units, of unspecified strength.

The tight lipped admiralty said that after the "unlucky hit" on the Hood the German forces "made every effort to shake off pursuit." But the British apparently were close at heel, counting somewhat on the damage they claimed against the Bismarck to slow its flight.

Grieve at Loss of Crew.

There was wide speculation that more powerful units of the fleet were speeding to the scene of action following the epic engagement of the Hood and Bismarck.

Press and public reaction to the loss was mixed. There was no apparent effort to hide grief over the destruction of the battle cruiser and its crew. The feeling was evidence that destruction of the recently commissioned Bismarck and nothing less would assuage Britons' sorrow.

Half hearted efforts to console the public were seen in newspaper comment that Britain still has three times as many battleships as Germany. The ratio at present is believed to be 15 to 4.

Hope for U. S. Action.

There was some emphasis on the admiralty's declaration that a chance hit had cost Britain the Hood. Others recalled that the same fate overtook the battle cruisers Queen Mary and Indefatigable in the world war battle of Jutland.

Expressions of hope also were heard that the loss of the Hood might be compensated somewhat in prompting the United States to direct action to make her ocean patrol in the western hemisphere a more effective aid to Britain.

The United States has assumed protection of Greenland and it apparently was on the fringe of the American western hemisphere patrol zone that the Hood was sunk.

take whatever risk might be involved in reducing its fleet's striking power to make the ships available to Britain.

The whole world is tensely awaiting the Tuesday night speech in which the President will reveal the extent to which he is disposed to go in further aid to Great Britain. The British government and the American interventionists are pressing for the dispatch of American warships to defense of Britain in the battle of the Atlantic. Members of the cabinet with the President's tacit approval also are advocating such measures as well as the repeal of the neutrality act which would permit American ships to carry arms cargoes to Great Britain.

There is good reason to believe that the President favors such action. Whether, however, he will support his cabinet members in his Tuesday night speech is problematical. The interventionists are urging him to lead the country into the war, assuring him that he can carry the country with him. The noninterventionists are warning him that the country is opposed to convoys or the use of our navy in any way to defend Britain and that it would be disastrous to plunge a divided country into war.

First Draft Completed.

With the help of Judge Samuel Rosenman of the New York Supreme court, No. 1 Presidential ghost writer, Mr. Roosevelt has completed the first draft of the speech. The only information of its substance emanating from the White House, however, is that the speech contains a burning denunciation of the totalitarians abroad and the noninterventionists at home.

The noninterventionists are challenging the President to ask congress for the repeal of the neutrality act, as advocated by Secretary of the Navy Knox and Secretary of War Stimson. They assert that it would be tantamount to asking a declaration of war and would provide a showdown of strength between the war and anti-war parties.

The administration, however, is courting no such showdown. Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], arch interventionist, after a conference with Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle, said no formal repeal of the neutrality act is required.

"It is only a matter of time before we repeal the neutrality act either by law or in fact," said Senator Pepper. "It might be repealed as we repealed the Johnson act, by passing the lend-lease bill—that is, by superseding legislation. Further, it might be repealed by common consent, like the 50 destroyers which were transferred [to Britain]."

MAIL AND TELEGRAMS POUR ON WASHINGTON; ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Washington, D. C., May 25 [Special].—Public interest in the rearmament program and other national questions is producing new records for incoming mails and telegrams to Washington, postoffice officials disclosed today.

President Roosevelt's mail alone was said to be averaging more than 10,000 letters, post cards, and petitions daily.

Never before, except during Christmas week of last year, have Washington's incoming mails been so heavy. The telegraph companies also report a new peak for incoming messages.

The increase of communications was particularly marked in the last four weeks. Telegrams are now about 20 per cent greater in number than they were at any previous high record.

No analysis was given out of the tenor of the White House mail, but it was stated that many of the envelopes received contain petitions with signatures running from the hundreds high into the thousands.

DARKEN NEWARK IN TEST OF CITY'S AIR DEFENSES

Newark, N. J., May 25 (AP).—Newark was plunged into darkness and resembled a European capital from 11:15 o'clock until 11:30 o'clock tonight [Chicago daylight time] as the city's defense council staged a blackout to demonstrate air raid defense.

The largest city in New Jersey, usually atwinkle with millions of lights at that hour, was like a sleeping hamlet. Thousands gathered at the city's busiest corner during the blackout, and peered skyward at an "official" airplane overhead.

Maj. Aaron H. Horland of the first army air corps, who was an official observer in the plane, said:

"The blackout was so effective that bombers flying 20,000 feet high could not effectively have hit any industrial target."

FAMOUS YACHT LOST BY BRITAIN IN WAR ACTION

LONDON, May 25 (AP).—War action has sunk T. O. M. Sopwith's motor yacht, Viva II., which has been part of Britain's wartime fleet. The Viva II, in 1937 left Sopwith's racing sloop Endeavour I. alone in the Atlantic to make her way home under sail when the tow parted far off Newport, R. I., in a heavy storm.

The Endeavour, returning to England with the Viva as convoy after Sopwith's last vain effort to lift the America's cup from Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger, eventually reached safety.

Germans Transfer Their Properties in Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 25.—Many Germans here are reported transferring their property and businesses to Costa Rican friends and relatives and to naturalized Germans, presumably to escape the consequences of possible United States entry into the European war. Costa Rica has no laws covering the situation.

ISOLATED ITALIAN COLUMN GIVES UP IN ETHIOPIA

ROME, May 25 (AP).—An Italian column cut off in the Amara district of Ethiopia has surrendered to the British, the high command announced today. The column was without provisions and "laid down its arms with honor after long and courageous resistance."

Defeat Wandering Italians.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 25 (AP).—An Italian column which had wandered in the trackless wastes north of Addis Ababa since early in April has been tracked down by British forces, attacked for three days, and defeated, the British announced tonight. The column included 570 Italians and more than 5,000 colonial troops. Seven hundred civilians also were in the party.

Destroy Two British Tanks.

BERLIN, May 25 (AP).—German reconnaissance forces have destroyed two British tanks in the Tobruk sector of Libya, it was announced today.

German fighting planes attacked British planes on the ground at La Venezia airport in Malta and made ten unusable either by setting them afire or causing other damage, DNB, German official agency, said.

FLOW OF NAZIS TO CRETE EBBS; BRITISH HOLDING

Island Battle Can Be Won, Asserts Officer.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 26 [Monday] (AP).—Allied soldiers waging bitter hand to hand fights are slowly closing in on the German parachute and air invaders of Crete, the British indicated today, and a British military observer predicted it would be possible to hold the island on which the war in the middle east hinges.

The general headquarters here officially announced late last night the first break in the eerie sky parade of German troops to the island, which began in full force seven days ago.

Troop landings by the Germans continued Saturday "but on a substantially reduced scale as compared with the previous two days."

Renewed Activity by RAF.

Thus the hint that German troop reinforcements thru the air were slackening coincided with the renewed activity of the RAF which sent long range fighters and bombers back to the battle Friday.

Out of the surging battle came Maj. Gen. T. G. Heywood, the chief of the British military mission to the Greeks, who brought encouragement to the empire. He reached Cairo with King George II of Greece.

"I think it will be possible to hold Crete," the major general declared. "The British and dominion troops and marines fight well in this type of fighting, that is man to man."

[The German radio, as heard in New York last night, said that "points suitable for evacuation" of British forces in Crete had been subjected to heavy air attacks. Four British transports were declared sunk by bombs in one Cretan bay.]

Three Cities Bombed.

The sharpest fighting was reported between Malemi, where the Germans have secured a hold on the important airdrome, and Canea, capital of Crete, which was one of three cities the British said were bombed indiscriminately and destructively by massed German planes Saturday.

Intensive dive bombing attacks were made in the Malemi-Canea area.

"As on previous days, our forces in this area have inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy, including continued destruction by shellfire of his aircraft on the ground," the communique added.

The island has become a maelstrom of aerial conflict, with German planes reported laying waste to great areas of Canea, Retimo, and Candia.

The Germans dumped explosives on the three cities from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. Saturday in methodical raids comparable to the Luftwaffe's destruction of large sections of Rotterdam last May, the British declared.

They said casualties were light in the three cities because of Crete's deep cave shelters and the removal of many civilians before the bombardments.

The defenders of Crete were vastly encouraged by the reëntrance of British fighter and bomber planes into the fray.

Destroy German Planes.

The RAF withdrew temporarily because of the lack of adequate landing facilities in Crete but went back into the fight Friday and promptly claimed the destruction of 14 German planes.

Bombers poured explosives on the German toehold on Malemi airport. It is at Malemi that the Germans, British reports said, have achieved their only measure of success in the invasion attempt.

[Germans in Berlin said officially that the western part of Crete was firmly in Nazi control.]

At least two German planes were destroyed Friday night and Saturday in RAF raids on Malemi airdrome and many others were damaged. These were in addition to the 14 planes destroyed earlier on Friday.

The fighters—some of them specially equipped bombers flying from Egyptian bases—attacked German transport aircraft which were landing troops in the Malemi area. One British fighter was lost during an engagement with Messerschmitt planes escorting the transports.

COLLEGE CLASS IS ADDRESSED BY GOVERNOR GREEN

Jacksonville, Ill., May 25 (AP).—Gov. Dwight Green told young women graduates of MacMurray college today that "wise and liberal education has increased ten-fold in its worth" because of the present struggle between the totalitarian and democratic ideologies in a world filled with "strife and unrest."

Gov. Green, who was given an honorary doctor of laws degree, was the principal speaker at the MacMurray commencement exercises. He told the graduating group:

"In these days of strife and unrest thruout the world, and with the minds of people upset by fear, true values have been lost in the greatest social upheaval the world has ever known.

"It is now that wise and liberal education has increased ten-fold in its worth, for governments built on false ideologies do not stand before enlightened people, and intolerance does not thrive when it meets the light of learning. . . ."

CHILD KILLED BY FATHER'S CAR.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 25 [Special].—Helen Kuiper, 5 years old, was killed today when her father, Harvey Kuiper, drove his automobile into a dead end street and struck a tree. The child was thrown from the rear seat and crushed when the car rebounded from the tree.

took them to the destroyer. The warship left for Egypt at dawn.

Others Aboard Ship.

Also leaving the island on the same ship was Maj. Gen. T. G. Heywood; the British minister, Sir Michael Palairet, and his wife, Lady Palairet. They, however, had not left Canea until a day after the king's departure. They traveled another route, part of the way in cars, the rest on mules. They had no military escort. Also in this party were the Greek premier and war minister, Emmanuel Tsouderos, and other members of the Greek government.

Lady Palairet did the cooking for this group with what sparse food could be gathered from the villagers along the way.

The diplomats' party, emerging on the south coast at a spot quite distant from the previously selected embarkation point, traveled the rest of the way to join the king in a Greek sail boat.

Tells of Meeting.

Of their meeting with the monarch, Gen. Heywood said:

"We were in a beautiful gorge with a bubbling stream and blooming oleanders when suddenly we saw tired soldiers coming and then the king on a mule. He was wearing a tin hat and smiling as fit as anything. The king was greeted by the villagers, who kissed his hand."

METHODICAL GAIN CLAIMED FOR NAZI FORCES IN CRETE

BERLIN, May 25 (AP).—To the accompaniment of what some observers called the heaviest air attacks in the history of warfare, German troops were declared proceeding methodically today with a mighty effort to occupy Crete. Germans said officially that their troops had the western part of the Mediterranean island firmly in control.

Presumably they were working eastward as fast as additional parachutists, airborne troops, and other reinforcements gave them strength to justify extending operations.

The Germans claimed that the British Mediterranean fleet, under the battering of air bombers, had been driven completely out of waters north of Crete. This apparently would open the sea so that reinforcements could be brought from the Greek mainland by surface craft.

Claim Ships Rush for Safety.

Such ships as escaped destruction, the Germans said, are scurrying for the security of their bases. The eastern Mediterranean supposedly is dotted with crippled craft limping away slowly and still subject to air attack.

On Crete itself, the most bitter fighting over the extremely mountainous terrain seemed to be for possession of airports and beaches where transport planes and gliders can deposit their loads of soldiers.

The center of especially bitter fighting appeared to continue around Malemi airport in the west. The Germans say they are holding this despite artillery fire.

Speed Not First Consideration.

Military commentators said the German army now probably is in position to "clean up Crete swiftly" if that were desired. But they contended that now since a foothold has been gained and reinforcements are being sent in an orderly manner, speed no longer is a first consideration.

German press dispatches said at least one merchant ship was sunk south of Crete today. Another dispatch said a British destroyer in Crete waters which was struck amidships was torn apart and sank in two pieces.

British Fleet Beaten: Rome.

ROME, May 25 (AP).—Italy, laying claim to a great share in axis successes against British sea power in the Mediterranean and Atlantic, declared today that the British fleet in the battle of Crete had been driven back to its bases. Italian claims included:

1. Three merchant ships, totaling 21,000 tons, including a large tanker, sunk in Atlantic by submarine.
2. Submarine also scored torpedo hit on a British warship—"presumably a cruiser."
3. Light naval forces sank allied submarine attempting attack on Italian convoy in central Mediterranean.

The Italian high command acknowledged loss of a destroyer and a torpedo boat in eastern Mediterranean action but said the crews were "almost entirely saved."

BELIEVE REGIME IN IRAQ BREAKING UP; ARABS RIOT

Family of Pro-Axis Chief Reaches Turkey.

ANKARA, Turkey, May 25 (AP).—Ten thousand Arabs rioted and looted in Basra yesterday, a telegram to the Turkish Agricultural bank said today amid reports that the proaxis government of Iraq was breaking up.

[First dispatches gave no indication as to whether the riot was for or against the Iraqi government fighting Britain, nor did they say whether the British, who reported possession of the Persian gulf port early in the undeclared war, took steps to restore order.]

The telegram said the disturbances endangered $2,000,000 worth of American farm machinery which had been purchased for Turkish coöperatives and was on the Basra docks.

Premier Rashid Ali al Gailani and his defense minister, Nedji Shefket, were reported to have requested and received a visa to enter Turkey and they were expected by plane tomorrow.

Premier's Family in Turkey.

There were rumors that several of Rashid Ali's generals had started a counter-revolution.

The wife, son, and daughter of the anti-British premier, who a few short days ago was calling on Germany for aid against British troop movements across Iraq, arrived here at the Turkish capital along with the family of Nedji Shefket.

Naji Suwaidi, Rashid Ali's finance minister, sent to Iran on "official business," took his family with him and Communications Minister Ali Mahmud also was understood to have reached Iran with his family.

The British say that German participation in the fight against the British in Iraq is almost negligible and that British forces have gained control of dikes on the upper Euphrates, thus holding power to flood low lying areas of southern Iraq if they wish.

In an action reported in today's British communique from Cairo, Iraqi forces six miles north of Basra were dispersed by British troops with the aid of the navy and royal air force.

Started War on May 2.

Rashid Ali's forces, which helped him to the premiership in a coup this spring, started hostilities with the British on May 2 when they shelled Habanniyah airdrome, about 60 miles west of Bagdad. At the same time Rashid Ali called on Germany for support. The British held treaty rights for the airdrome and other military facilities with Rashid Ali's predecessors.

The Germans finally answered Rashid Ali's appeals by sending warplanes, technicians, propagandists, and such agents into Iraq by way of French mandated Syria.

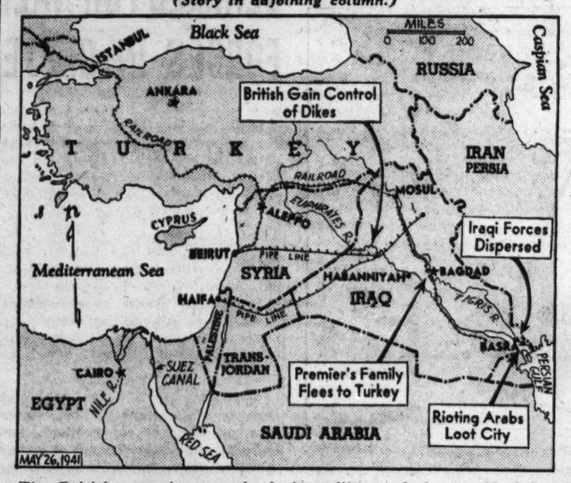
Now the battle of Crete has made the operations in Iraq a side issue for the Germans as well as the British. If Crete falls to the Germans, however, Iraq as well as Syria may be the next big battle zone.

Mussolini Makes Another Change in His War Cabinet

ROME, May 25 (AP).—A secondary change in Premier Mussolini's war machine was revealed today when it was announced Il Duce received Col. Sorice, who is leaving his post as chief of the war ministry cabinet after five years of service. Mussolini praised his work in that position.

Pro-Nazi Regime Breaking Up

(Story in adjoining column.)



The British were in control of river dikes and the pro-Nazi Iraqi leaders were preparing to flee, it was reported from the middle eastern nation yesterday.

SEE POLICY SHIFT WEAKENING TURK TIES TO BRITAIN

Nazi Gains May Force Move, Say Observers.

ANKARA, Turkey, May 25 (AP).—With Turkey facing semiencirclement by the axis armies of occupation, many of her political observers were inclined to agree today that the country's foreign policy "must undergo an evolution."

[Turkey has been a nonbelligerent ally of Britain since the war began and has received British financial and economic help.]

Passage from the Black sea of the first carloads of Nazi produced armaments was seen as the initial development in the changing situation for Turkey.

Deny Army Route Is Asked.

Responsible sources flatly denied foreign reports that the axis had requested permission to move troops thru Turkey. They said the question had never been raised with the government here by either Germany or Italy.

The Turkish national railroad has transported across Anatolia a test shipment of German made military supplies consigned to Iraq, well-informed quarters said.

The shipment, altho small, was considered an important precedent for heavy traffic should Iraq resistance remain uncrushed.

Iraq persuaded the Turkish government to grant railroad favors in return for assurances that Turkish imports, now halted at Basra and Bagdad, would be forwarded as quickly as possible.

British Show Displeasure.

British displeasure has been strongly evidenced in Ankara over Turkey's inability to choke off the stream of French surplus army equipment reported sent to Iraq by the Turko-Syrian rail line, which runs mostly thru Turkish territory.

Turks told the British that reciprocal agreements with Syria permit either country to make military use of the common route regardless of other international obligations.

It was unofficially reported that Adolf Hitler in a recent message to President Ismet Inonu delivered by the German ambassador, Franz von Papen, said Turkey's position "should be clarified" after the German occupation of Aegean islands was completed.

JUGO-SLAV KING WANTS TO LEARN TO FLY IN CANADA

JERUSALEM, May 25.—King Peter of Jugo-Slavia today said he hopes to become a member of the Jugo-Slavia air force in Canada, which it is understood will be included within the British empire air training scheme. The king's expressed ambition is to become a pilot. The "free Jugo-Slav" government, a spokesman here said, will concentrate on building a powerful air force as one principal factor in the fight to win liberation. Several hundred pilots were said to have reached the middle east after the collapse of the Jugo-Slav armies.

SCHEME TO LEASE UKRAINE TO NAZIS DENIED BY RUSSIA

MOSCOW, May 25 (AP).—Pravda, organ of the communist party, found it necessary today to brand as "political nonsense and an idiotic lie" a Berlin report attributed to a Finnish newspaper correspondent that Russia would lease her rich Ukraine granary to Germany.

Pravda, which said the report came from a writer for the Helsingfors Sanomat in Berlin, declared:

"It is time that adult Finnish journalists stop representing the kindergarten and singing amusing nonsense in a falsetto voice. It is time for them to grow up and get wiser."

The soviet press published a Tass, soviet official news agency, report from Helsingfors that Finland was experiencing a severe food shortage.

Many Drown as Cloudburst Floods Town in Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 25 (AP).—Meager reports from the village of Aldama today said a severe cloudburst had flooded part of the town, drowning a number of persons and wrecking homes. Several sections of the Kansas City-Mexico-Orient railroad also were said to have been wiped out.

WEYGAND BACKS PETAIN ON NAZI COLLABORATION

Appeals to Colonial Chiefs for Loyalty.

VICHY, France, May 25 (AP).—Gen. Maxime Weygand, generalissimo of France in the days of her defeat and now commander of all Vichy forces in North Africa, has thrown the weight of his approval behind the Petain government's plan for collaboration with Germany.

As Marshal Petain's proconsul for North Africa, Weygand made a special air trip to Fez, French Morocco, to make clear his position to the French colony there. His headquarters have been in Algiers.

Appeals for Loyalty.

Dispatches from Fez said Weygand in a speech to leading members of the French colony said:

"All Frenchmen concerned for the future of continental France as well as the empire should subscribe unanimously to the principles of the policy of collaboration decided on by the marshal."

He concluded with an appeal for "discipline and union" and urged colonial leaders to "follow without hesitation the way mapped out by the venerated chief of the community of Frenchmen."

It was reported that Weygand and French Gen. Auguste Nogues accompanied the sultan of Morocco to Tafilet oasis at the base of the Atlas mountains, and there visited the ancient tombs of the Alaulita dynasty.

Act Against Deserter.

By a special decree published today in the official journal, Lieut. Col. Philibert Collett has been stripped of his French citizenship for having gone over to De Gaullist troops in Palestine.

Dispatches from Beirut said 85 of the Circassian cavalrymen who were led by Collett into Trans-Jordan from Syria en route to Palestine last week recrossed the frontier and returned to their posts yesterday, and an additional 70 returned this morning with their French officers.

They said they were given the choice by a British officer who greeted Collett some 30 miles inside Trans-Jordan territory.

Collett, who has been in Syria since France took it over as a mandate after the world war, charged French officials in Syria with "treachery" in supplying air bases and munitions to the Germans.

[The "Free French" radio at Brazzaville, French equatorial Africa, broadcast a report that "hundreds of soldiers belonging to the Syrian army" crossed the frontier from the French mandate into Palestine yesterday. It reported further that "as an answer to the measure recently taken against the British representatives in Syria, the Vichy consulate in Jerusalem has been closed and the consul requested to leave Palestine."]

OAK PARK BAKERY OWNER ARRESTED UNDER BLUE LAW

Louis Schlosser, owner of a bakery chain, was arrested yesterday as Oak Park police clamped down on business in the suburb again by invoking an Illinois blue law of 1874. Schlosser posted $25 bond on the charge of disturbing the peace by business activities on the Sabath.

Schlosser and Mrs. Mary Jack, an assistant manager of the store who was arrested last Sunday, will appear tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Joseph E. O'Connell in Oak Park. Mrs. Jack recently was fined $10 on a charge of selling short weight on bread, a countermove by the village in the blue law fight. The bakery is appealing the conviction.

Schlosser has obtained a temporary injunction to restrain village authorities from enforcing the Oak Park blue law.

Ashcan Baby

County hospital nurse with newly born girl found yesterday in ashcan.

A baby girl, about five hours old, was found in an ashcan at the rear of 2215 South Trumbull avenue early yesterday by four men on their way home from a party. The infant was taken to County hospital and placed in an incubator. Physicians said the baby's condition was good. The baby weighs 5 pounds 6 ounces and has black curly hair.

NAZI BOMBERS RETURN TO HEAVY RAIDS ON BRITAIN

British Attack Shipping Off Dutch Coast.

LONDON, May 25 (AP).—The German air force returned to heavy assaults on Britain last night, inflicting numerous casualties and considerable property damage in a residential section of a west country town.

Several families were trapped in the wreckage of their homes, but rescue squads disregarded their own safety and worked right on thru the raid. They were credited with holding down the fatalities.

Sink 2,500 Ton Ship.

The air ministry announced that British bombers attacking shipping off the Netherlands coast yesterday sank a vessel of about 2,500 tons and set another afire, leaving it listing. A third vessel was declared hit and probably sunk and still other Nazi craft machine gun strafed.

German planes flying separately appeared over the British Isles during the day but no bombs were reported dropped.

War planes were reported over a northeast coast district late tonight but no bombings were mentioned. London, without an alarm, passed its 15th bombless day.

Raid East Coast Ports.

BERLIN, May 25 (AP).—The English east coast ports of Great Yarmouth, Lowestoft, and Folkestone were bombed during German reconnaissance flights Saturday, DNB, the German official news agency, said today.

DNB reported a factory at Bexhill, in southern England, collapsed under a direct hit, and said other factories at Newport were damaged extensively.

Two freighters totaling 3,500 tons were reported destroyed and two others damaged Saturday night in air attacks off the northeast coast of Scotland.

GIVE FRENCHMEN BREAD MADE OF AMERICAN FLOUR

VICHY, France, May 25.—Free bread was distributed thruout the unoccupied zone of France today as a gift of the American government. Large breadlines formed early in the morning, and many bakeries were kept open for the distribution.

By the French government's decision, and because of the difficulties of transportation, the American flour was reserved for the five neediest departments of France nearest the port of Marseilles, where the flour was delivered. In the other departments a free distribution was organized with French flour, but of better quality than is generally used.

DEMANDS JEWISH ARMY BE FORMED IN MIDDLE EAST

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 25.—A demand for immediate formation of a Jewish army in Palestine to help Britain fight in the middle east was made today by the Rev. M. A. Landau, rabbi of South Shields. Speaking before a special Zionist meeting there, Rabbi Landau said:

"If Britain had accepted Jewish offers made time and again she could have had now in Palestine, that key position, three mechanized divisions possibly paid for and equipped by Jews."

"Imprudently" Rejected.

These offers of Jewish aid, the rabbi said, had been "persistently and imprudently rejected."

Alluding to Adolf Hitler's aims, the rabbi went on to say that the "focus of Hitler's plans for destruction of British power in the near and middle east is Palestine." Then he asked, "Can we be sure that Palestine is ready to meet the German thrust thru Syria?"

Reminding his listeners that Palestine at this moment contains an unarmed Jewish population, Rabbi Landau urged that the Jews there "be at once armed and equipped to enable them to defend the interests of the British empire and in so doing lighten the task of the regular troops."

Last Man and Woman.

The speaker declared that if there is one group of people in the whole middle east which can be relied upon to the last man and woman it is the Jews of Palestine. He said that half a million Jews there ask for nothing better than the right to protect themselves.

NAZIS SEEK CONTROL OF 4 GREEK VESSELS TIED UP AT ISTANBUL

ISTANBUL, Turkey, May 25.—A diplomatic contest between the Greek embassy at Ankara, backed by the British, and the German-dominated Athens government is in progress for the control of four Greek cargo boats tied up in Istanbul.

These four vessels—one loaded with coal, one with matches, and two with foodstuffs—have been in Istanbul for some time. The Germans are understood to have instructed the Athens government to order them back to Piraeus. Their owners, also in Athens, have sent similar commands.

The Greek embassy here, however, has advised the Turkish government that the vessels were requisitioned by the now exiled government when the Italian-Greek war started. Turkey still recognizes that government, and the embassy is trying to keep the ships in its name.

IRISH PARLIAMENT MEETS TO OPPOSE DRAFT IN ULSTER

De Valera's Statement to Outline Stand.

BY HUGH CURRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 25.—Ireland's parliament will meet tomorrow to receive from Prime Minister Eamon de Valera an official statement on the government's attitude toward application of military conscription to Northern Ireland by Britain. The question has created a new crisis in Irish-British relations.

The prime minister called the Dail into session two days ahead of schedule after obtaining the views of officials of all political parties and members of his cabinet at a special meeting.

Ireland already has officially opposed conscription in the six counties of Northern Ireland, which is part of the United Kingdom and under British rule. On May 2, 1939, De Valera said:

"We claim the whole of Ireland as national territory. That claim will remain as long as the Irish nation remains. Therefore, to conscript Irishmen who are inhabitants of the six counties is an act of aggression."

Supported by U. S. Irish.

This statement was supported by Irish-Americans and two days later, the late Neville Chamberlain, then Britain's premier, announced that the conscription bill would not apply to Northern Ireland. Application of the measure now is looked on here as unwise because of its possible effect on Irish-British relations.

Ireland has sought unification of Northern Ireland with Ireland and has opposed conscription in Ulster because of fears that such action would bring the war closer to Ireland and subject pro-Ireland Ulsterities to compulsory war service.

Churchill Defied.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, May 25 (AP).—Thousands of Nationalists [pro-Irish faction] attending open air rallies all over Northern Ireland today chorused a pledge to defy any attempt to impose compulsory military service under a proposed conscription plan.

Alderman James McCourt declared at a Londonderry protest meeting that "we fling conscription back in [Premier] Churchill's face. If he wants war he can have it." P. Maxwell, a member of parliament, asserted at the same meeting that opposition to the plan should be carried out "by unconstitutional means if necessary."

At a Labor party meeting in Belfast a demand was made for a plebiscite on the question.

May Hold Up Plan.

LONDON, May 25 (AP).—Opposition aroused both in Northern Ireland and Ireland may delay for a time the British government's decision on conscription in Northern Ireland. Prime Minister Churchill is expected to announce a decision this week but political circles expressed the opinion it might be necessary to reëxamine the whole question.

Calls Plan "Outrage."

New York, May 25 (AP).—Gen. Frank Aiken, Irish minister of defense coordination, tonight described a British proposal for conscription in Northern Ireland as a "monstrous outrage."

In the United States to buy arms, ships, and food, Gen. Aiken told the New York state convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic that "the British government has no more right to conscript a single Irishman than the people of a foreign country have to conscript an American."

BETTY JANE HARDING.

Portland, Ore., May 25 (AP).—Betty Jane Harding, 18 years old, entered a whirl of activities today that will be climaxed by her reign as queen of Portland's annual rose festival, June 11-14. Judges selected the tall brunette from among nine high school seniors last night. The other candidates were named princesses in Betty Jane's court, and all received a year's scholarship in any Oregon college of their choice.

PLAN TO REMAKE CARGO SHIPS AS PLANE CARRIERS

Washington, D. C., May 25 (AP).—Naval circles were reported today to believe that merchant ships converted into small aircraft carriers might prove of paramount importance in the battle against submarine and bomber attacks on Britain-bound shipping.

Some legislators studying the subject have expressed belief that merchant convoys would not meet the present needs because destroyers alone cannot cope with long range bombing planes.

Large naval aircraft carriers have proved vulnerable to air attack. Proponents of the converted type of carrier hope that, being much smaller, it will prove a much more difficult target to hit.

The navy already is at work converting at least one merchant ship built by the maritime commission, the Mormacmail, for use as a plane carrier. In convoy use, the carrier probably would be placed in the center of the group of merchant ships.

During daylight hours the carrier's planes would be able to scout the ocean for submarines or surface raiders. The planes also would be available to fight off bomber attacks.

At night, when submarines are most dangerous, destroyers would play their part.

AMERICA FIRST FORGES AHEAD DESPITE SMEARS

Shows Big Gains in Face of East's Hostile Press.

BY VINCENT BUTLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—The New York chapter of the America First committee expressed elation today at the antiwar sentiment generated in this supposedly interventionist citadel by Friday night's great rally in Madison Square garden.

Some 32,000 persons gathered in the Garden and outside to hear Charles A. Lindbergh, Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], and other speakers warn against involvement of the United States in Europe's war.

The outpouring was considered all the more remarkable since a large portion of the New York press has maintained a disdainful attitude and in some instances has indulged in smear campaigns against the patriotic organization which—born in Chicago—set up offices in New York to offset the propaganda of multitudinous interventionist groups.

Tell of Difficulties.

Spokesmen for America First recounted today the difficulties they have had in placing their cause before the people. They cited the obstacles placed before the Philadelphia chapter of America First in that city of "brotherly love" as an example.

In Philadelphia, home of the Liberty Bell and Independence Hall, the operators of the Academy of Music refused to rent their hall to the America First committee, which intends to stage a rally there on May 29, with Lindbergh as the chief speaker. The local transportation company refused to sell advertising space in street cars for the meeting, and two radio stations refused to broadcast the speech.

The Academy management explained that it refused to rent the hall to America First because speakers like Lindbergh did not "attract a good American audience." It denied that its refusal was "suppression," as charged by Isaac Pennypacker.

Membership Is Soaring.

That branch was formed about two months ago. It already has a membership of more than 4,000, "with more coming in daily," and the May 29 rally will be its first major one.

Philadelphia, like New York, has been subjected to a constant bombardment of interventionist propaganda from the prowar Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, from interventionist newspapers, and from social registerites, public officials, and elderly college professors.

The America First committee now has arranged to have Lindbergh speak in the Arena, a smaller hall.

While the publicity reflecting the controversy in the Philadelphia press—much of which is strongly interventionist—boosted the stock of America First, the New York press has treated the Philadelphia matter in brief fashion, and editorial comment has been lacking.

Some newspapers in New York have been described as being nothing more than "organs for war."

One example of how interventionist newspapers practice discrimination was described today by a veteran figure in public life. Their reporters and photographers, he said, are sent thru the audiences at meetings of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

They take care to take pictures of all classes of people in the audience, which then is described as "a cross-section of the American people," and the variety of "type" photographs offered is "evidence."

On the other hand, these same reporters and photographers circulate thru an America First rally audience and seek out persons whose characters appear to be German, or who are known as Nazi crackpots.

The Advance Publicity.

When the Committee to Defend America has a meeting coming up, it is widely publicized for about two weeks before the event. On the other hand, America First has to strive constantly to get its notices into the papers, and when it does, it finds that they are usually accompanied by a smear from some interventionist spokesman.

One important indicator of the true trend of public opinion is the fact that the most outspoken isolationist paper in New York—the Daily News—continues to enjoy tremendous gains in circulation.

JAPS SEIZE HUGE INDO-CHINA STORE OF U. S. PRODUCTS

Smash Doors and Take $10,000,000 in Goods.

HANOI, French Indo-China, May 25 (AP).—Japanese soldiers today broke down the doors of two warehouses at Haiphong, northern Indo-China port, and removed $10,000,000 worth of United States products belonging to two American companies. The goods had been blocked from reaching the central Chinese government. The companies are the Far Eastern Trading company and the North American syndicate.

The Japanese, charging the American companies were blinds to cover the real Chinese owners, had prevented reshipment of the goods since last September.

While Charles Reed, American consul, made repeated efforts to release the products, the Japanese repeatedly demanded that the Indo-Chinese government turn them over to Japanese military authorities.

Goods Put on Freighters.

The Japanese military mission in Indo-China sent two letters to the American companies announcing they intended to remove the goods and "did not recognize the supposed name" of the Far Eastern Trading company. They demanded that the warehouse keys be turned over to them by 7 p. m. yesterday. The American firms refused after informing the Indo-Chinese government, thru Reed, of the Japanese letters.

The Japanese, 13 hours after the deadline expired, smashed the doors and took the goods to seven Japanese freighters waiting at Haiphong to load.

The Indo-Chinese government was expected to ask the Vichy government to protest to Tokio.

The supplies included American trucks and tires en route to China when the Japanese cut off the Haiphong-Kunming route last September.

Altho the French government of Indo-China once attempted to requisition the materials for itself, the Japanese refused to release them and strengthened their guard around the warehouses.

No Control, French Admit.

SAIGON, French Indo-China, May 25 (AP).—French colonial authorities have openly admitted they had no control over the American goods Japanese soldiers seized at Haiphong today and had told United States authorities that only the Japanese could release the materials.

The American embassy at Tokio has joined in putting diplomatic pressure upon the Japanese and on Dec. 12 a protest from the state department was handed to the Indo-Chinese government.

The Japanese on numerous occasions have raided warehouses and taken goods after breaking the doors.

Burglars Crack Safe; Start Fire in Building

Burglars who broke into the Northern Leaf Tobacco company on the second floor at 128 West Lake street early today escaped with the contents of the office safe and cash register. They used matches to see their way about the office, starting a fire which caused $50 damage before firemen extinguished it with hand pumps. Police were unable to contact company officials immediately to learn what was in the safe and cash register.

Firemen yesterday rescued seven persons from a blazing two story frame building at 2147 Lakewood avenue. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

KIN OF WAR LOST SOLDIERS JOIN IN FIGHT FOR PEACE

Many Make Sacrifices to Help America First.

A sample yesterday of the thousands of letters received by the America First committee disclosed some important facts about supporters of the anti-war campaign. One is that many have lost relatives in war or now face immediate threat of undergoing the experience.

Gen. Robert E. Wood.

Also disclosed in the letters is the spirit of sacrifice impelling many of the senders to contribute toward expenses of the movement against involvement in foreign wars. On Saturday Gen. Robert E. Wood, honorary national chairman, announced that nearly all the $1,000 a day receipts are made up of $1 and $2 contributions.

Has the Medals but No Son.

Excerpts from the letters follow:

Woman in St. Louis, Mo.: "I have my son's distinguished service medal, Victoria cross, and Croix de Guerre, but I do not have my son. I pray this dollar will prevent some other mother from suffering as I have."

Chicago family: "We are Americans. Our ancestors fought in the revolutionary war, my father in the civil war, my two brothers in the Spanish-American war, and my youngest brother, for whom the athletic field at Montana university is named, was killed in the Argonne battle. No one could question our patriotism. Inclosed find $2 from us."

Woman in Dallas, Tex.: "I am inclosing $1 to be used in your great work of maintaining peace. As a mother, I believe this is the best defense bond I could buy for the safety and life of my son."

Student Lauds Work.

Cornell university student: "I am inclosing a small check for the help of your most important work. Your committee represents the majority of the people, and we appreciate the work you are doing."

Father in Walla Walla, Wash.: "I am inclosing $1 to help send literature to other people. Wish I could send more but we are poor people. My son is in camp now."

Chicago woman: "Inclosed is $1. Having five grandsons signed up with the army to defend our own country, I protest most earnestly against sending them to fight abroad."

Bowling Green, O., business man: "It is more than commendable that this country possesses such outstanding Americans who are always ready to serve their country in every capacity. I am inclosing $10."

Mother of Wounded Vet Writes.

Tunica, Miss.: "I am a mother 87 years old, with a son who has been in a veterans' hospital for 10 years as a result of world war wounds. I hope my $1 contribution will help you in your wonderful work."

Ferryville, Wis.: "I am with you as a true American should be. I am a widow with an old age pension of $20 a month. This is all I have to buy clothes, keep my home, and feed myself with, so 50 cents is all I can possibly send. I am the mother of six sons and a daughter. My oldest brother was one of Lincoln's volunteers. I had four sons in the world war. I now have a grandson in the navy. My prayers are: God bless America and keep us from war."

Daytona Beach, Fla.: "I wish to do all I can to help your valiant efforts in the cause of true, honest Americans and the salvation of our country, so I am sending $3. Five generations of my family have been loyal Americans."

Infectious Dandruff

IMPROVED IN CLINICAL TEST

Such a delightful, easy, stimulating treatment! Just douse Listerine Antiseptic on the scalp, morning and night, and follow with, vigorous and persistent massage.

Listerine, the same germicide which has been famous for more than 50 years as an antiseptic gargle, kills millions of germs on scalp and hair, including Pityrosporum Ovale recognized by outstanding specialists as a causative agent of infectious-type dandruff.

7 out of every 10!

This germ-killing action, we believe, helps to explain why, in a clinical test, 76% of dandruff sufferers—7 out of every 10!—showed either complete disappearance of or marked improvement in the symptoms of dandruff within a month.

GIVE US ACTION! PRO-WAR GROUP ASKS PRESIDENT

—And Make It Strong, Note on Speech Adds.

New York, May 25 (AP).—A letter to President Roosevelt pledging support for "strong action, even armed action" against aggressors was made public tonight by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

Committee officials said the letter bore the signatures of 2,000 citizens and the first signers were Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former minister to Norway, and Lewis W. Douglas, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York. Mrs. Harriman is vice chairman of the committee, and Douglas is chairman of the committee's national policy board.

Quotations from Letter.

The letter, in part, says:

"We await your address on May 27 in the belief that you will tell what we must do to insure the security of the United States by hastening the defeat of the aggressors. We pledge to you our loyal support in the performance of this historic task.

"The dictators have extended their world war and world revolution from continent to continent—farther and farther out into the Atlantic ocean—nearer and nearer to the lifeline of the western hemisphere. With their propagandists and saboteurs they have begun their invasion of this hemisphere.

"The challenge is inescapable. We cannot meet it with mere words nor with mere dollars. We know that strong action, even armed action, entailing greater sacrifices will be required of us."

J. P. Morgan A Signer.

The committee said the signers included among others J. P. Morgan, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh; Lieut. Gov. Charles Poletti of New York; former governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and Actress Helen Hayes.

Wendell L. Willkie said today while watching a United China Relief parade that he hoped President Roosevelt's radio address on Tuesday night would unite America. Willkie, the defeated 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, explained that he hoped the President would:

"Give a forthright, courageous, and revealing message that will unite Americans, lead to a composing of the differences among our citizens, unite us in a common cause, and serve notice to totalitarian rulers everywhere that America intends to help stop aggressor powers and totalitarianism."

Pepper Makes a Speech.

Dallas, Tex., May 25 (AP).—Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] in a radio address said today, "We must hold the lifeline to Britain open or it will be necessary to send another expeditionary force abroad."

The senator said the isolationists were a "vociferous, obstructing, and fighting minority," and in their following were "all the little Hitlers, Mussolinis, and Matsuokas who either were out of sympathy with democracy or in favor of dictatorship."

"They are the forces boring from within and use the language of patriotism and their flag to shield the dangerous ideas they espouse," he said. "These are the men to be ferreted out to find where they are employed and where paid."

We're Winning in the War Against War, Asserts Nye

Senator Nye.

South Bend, Ind., May 25 (AP).—"America wants more than anything else to stay out of this war," Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] told an America First rally today.

"What if Roosevelt and Willkie told us in October before election that, if elected, they would give us the lease-lend program, pour out 7 billion dollars to a foreign cause, repeal the neutrality laws, convoy and patrol the dangerous war zones?" he asked.

"Why, had they done that we would today in all probability have a Socialist President. The truth is that they promised before election only that which was contrary to their leadership of today.

"Peace, Peace, Peace!"

"'Peace, peace, peace!' 'Keep us out of war!' That was their cry then. They gave then the fullest measure of assurance to the people that they would keep us out of war.

"We are being as completely fooled again by propaganda as we were once before, often by the same blueprint of propaganda and the same propagandists. We've been driven mad by it, have blinded ourselves to our own interests and welfare.

"We've been made to forget the serious challenge to our democracy at home and we are throwing our resources into a war that is no different from the wars that plague every generation of Europeans.

"But we can win this America First war against war. We are winning it. The cause of intervention has been halted in its tracks by an outpouring of public sentiment which has staggered the President and the organized go-to-war forces.

"People Have Awakened."

"The people have awakened and are combating the lies and deceptions of those who would take us to war while chloroforming us into believing that we were going 'just short of war.' Emotionalism is giving way to common sense. Truth is having a hearing. Hate and fear are being better controled.

"If we go into this war in spite of the public wish to stay out, then our war shall be known by but one name: 'The Roosevelt War.'

"If democracy is to win, America must stay out of this war, preserve its resources. We must maintain the solvency which will let us help an exhausted world when this present madness is over, help the world save itself in that hour from things much worse than war.

"If Britain finds she cannot finish this war which she herself declared, then let her strive to ascertain what kind of a peace she can have now. Then, before she asks us to come any further than we have already come to her aid, at least let her advise us what kind of a peace she can have right now."

150 EDUCATORS WARN: CONVOYS WILL LEAD TO AEF

New York, May 25 [Special].—A petition reminding President Roosevelt of his statement, "convoys mean shooting and shooting means war," signed by 150 members of the staffs of seven colleges and universities in New York, was sent to the White House today.

"We urge you to heed the will of the American people against the use of convoys, since the use of American ships for such purposes will result inevitably in the sending of an American expeditionary force. We urge you, President, to keep our country at peace," the petition stated.

It was circulated at Hunter college, City college, Brooklyn college, Queens college, Sarah Lawrence college, Columbia university, and New York university.

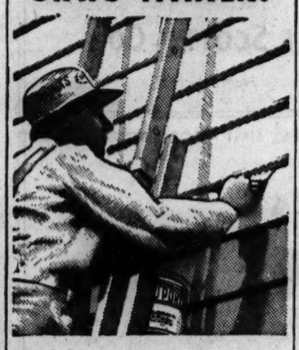
NEW HOUSE PAINT made by DU PONT STAYS WHITER!



DU PONT House Paint is a brilliant white . . . and it stays whiter, too! It is "self-cleaning"! It forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot, or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it and exposing a fresh white surface. Usually this self-cleaning process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. And it saves you money because it needs fewer repaintings. Next time you paint, ask your painting contractor to use Du Pont House Paint.

There's a Du Pont dealer near you. For his name, see your Classified Telephone Directory, or phone Brunswick 6900. Du Pont Co., 2100 Elston Ave.

MOTHERS URGE ANTI-WAR PLEAS AT ELGIN RALLY

Oppose Another 'Unknown Soldier, Unknown Cause.'

The peace organization We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America opened the third of its state-wide rallies in Elgin yesterday with the declaration that "there must not be another unknown soldier in another unknown cause."

The meeting, which several hundred attended, was held in Lord's park. The turnout was larger than had been expected and was so enthusiastic that an Elgin chapter of the organization was formed on the spot.

Principal speakers were Mrs. Barbara Winthrop, president of the organization, and Mrs. Lyrl Clark Van Hyning, lecturer and vice president. Walter T. Woodcock, a newspaper editor, presided.

"We mothers answer 'No!' to the possibility that there shall be another unknown soldier in another unknown cause," said Mrs. Winthrop. "On the eve of Poppy day let us insist that the President proclaim to the world that there shall not be another."

Mrs. Winthrop charged that some war mongers assert America cannot turn from war now because industry is geared to wartime production.

"We mothers of American sons demand to know why this concern for industrial production is so much greater than for the human production to which we have devoted our lives," she said. "The construction of a tank requires only a few weeks but that of an American soldier demands the care and devotion of at least 21 years."

Mrs. Van Hyning said mothers of the country will go down as cowards if they do not let Washington know their opposition to war. Woodcock urged the crowd to write to the President now "before American dead begin coming back as bundles from Britain."

OFFICERS SCOUT 360 SQUARE MILE 'BATTLE' GROUND

Troops Move in for Great Peacetime Maneuver.

(Picture on back page.)

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Manchester, Tenn., May 25.—Second army troops, who have arrived in this area to participate in the nation's largest peacetime battle maneuver on June 2 to 28, rested today while their officers used every available piece of transportation to familiarize themselves with the 360 square mile plateau which will be the scene of the "battle of Tennessee." The same ground was the scene of a great civil war battle.

Newest arrivals in the area are 18,000 troops of the 5th [regular] division from Camp Custer, Mich. The 500 mile trip from Michigan was made in eight days without a mishap. The 27th [New York National Guard] division has been in the area for several days, having made the trip from Fort McClellan, Ala., by truck.

By the end of the week, 77,000 troops will be bivouacked in an area 12 miles wide and extending from Camp Forrest, near Tullahoma, northward 30 miles to Mulfreesboro.

Two Divisions on Way.

Divisions which are en route include the 30th [Tennessee, Georgia, North and South Carolina National Guard] from Fort Jackson, S. C., and the 2d armored [regular] from Fort Benning, Ga.

The 27th and 30th divisions contain 19,000 men each. The 2d has 16,000, a majority of whom are draftees from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

Other troops to take part in the maneuver will number about 5,000 and will include auxiliary regiments and battalions of specialists—engineers, signalmen, medical, ordinance and repair units, and quartermasters. Officers in charge of the maneuver say that it will differ from any previous summer test in that the troops have undergone 13 weeks of basic training in their camps and are ready to work on major battle problems, whereas in other years the maneuvers were mere training sessions.

New Rules for Umpires.

Methods of scoring also have been revised by the army command, which has been training 275 umpires for weeks. In previous maneuvers, umpires on the scene reported to a higher command which made decisions. This year the umpires will decide the victors on the spot, basing their scoring on the number of men reaching an objective and the potential power of their gunfire.

Field operations will not be restricted to leased land as in the past. Every square mile of the battle zone will be available for troop movement and landholders' claims for damages will be settled later by the war department.

Poppy Day Chief

MISS DORTHEA THOMPSON.

The Veterans' Poppy Day association, headed by Miss Dorthea Thompson as president, today will sell poppies in Chicago and the suburbs on behalf of war veterans and their families. Miss Thompson is the first woman to head the organization, which is composed of the Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, The American Legion, and their auxiliaries. She is past commander of Mars sur Allier Post of the American Legion, a group of world war nurses.

WOMEN TO VISIT CAPITAL AGAIN IN FIGHT FOR PEACE

New York, May 25 [Special].—Women United, a nationwide organization of women opposed to American involvement in the European war, today announced that it will make another pilgrimage to Washington on June 3 to impress upon administration interventionists their determination to keep the United States at peace. Mrs. Hall Herrick of Boston is president of the organization.

On May 14, more than 800 women journeyed from New York to Washington by special train to disseminate their anti-war views. Today Women United announced that due to the tremendous response to that pilgrimage another trip will be made. Every state in the east, it was said, will be represented.

A meeting will be held here tomorrow to complete plans for the trip. Representative Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.] and Miss Lillian Gish, noted actress, will be the principal speakers.

"The theme of this meeting," the announcement said, "will be on to Washington, again and again in ever increasing numbers to impress on those who would lead this country into a foreign war for which it is unprepared, that the women of the United States will fight to the finish against such action that might take American boys to foreign shores for war purposes."

AMERICA FIRST TOLD OF PERILS TO FREE SPEECH

President Roosevelt's refusal to renew the army commission of Hugh Johnson, former NRA chief, "smacks of an effort to intimidate and suppress free speech in opposition to the President's wishes," Dr. A. R. E. Wyant, a retired physician and educator, said yesterday in an address before the Hyde Park chapter of the America First committee at 5757 University avenue.

"Has the reprobation of Charles A. Lindbergh been because of his exercise of free speech in opposition to the President's anticipated involvement in a foreign war?" Dr. Wyant asked. "Why talk about fighting abroad for freedom of speech and expression and deny it at home?"

Dr. Wyant said prowar forces are trying to cut off public debate on the question of peace or war for the United States by persuading the President to declare a national emergency. He warned that this would give President Roosevelt complete control of the radio and would muzzle the voice of the nonintervention-ist majority.

THE PUBLIC GETS A RISE OUT OF 9 SULKY SEA LIONS

Zoo's Pampered Pets Now Work for Suppers.

The public now can make the sulky sea lions at Brookfield zoo sit up and take notice.

For several years the sleek, well fed creatures have been snubbing their audiences. They would sprawl on the rocks and watch spectators with lazy, glazed eyes or dive mischieviously to the bottom of the pool and hide from sight. It was only when their keeper fed them huge quantities of mackerel twice a day that the sea lions put on a real show.

From now on, however, there is likely to be a rumpus in the pool at all hours. For the public is being permitted—nay, encouraged—to feed the sea lions for the first time in the history of the park. The new policy became effective at 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon and it can be done in style.

It's All Very Nautical.

Tony Forlik, park carpenter, has built a platform that resembles the prow of a boat out over the sea lions' pool. From this "boat," christened the Flying Fish by Robert Bean, assistant director of the zoo, spectators may toss smelts to the sea lions.

It isn't even necessary to soil one's hands with the fish, for the somewhat smelly smelt itself is neatly encased in a patented wooden fish. The spectator simply grabs the wooden fish by the tail, swings it over his head, and out pops the smelt into the mouth of one of the leaping sea lions.

Nor need one worry about the possibility of tossing them the wooden fish by mistake. It's chained to the make-believe ship.

Must Work for Food Now.

"The sea lions will get some needed exercise now," Mr. Bean declared yesterday as he watched the eight cows and one bull wrestle with each other over a smelt and flash back and forth from one end of the pool to the other as the fish flew high and wide. "It takes 14 smelt to equal one mackerel. The females eat seven pounds of mackerel a day, while Carl, the bull, has been getting 12."

But it looked yesterday as if Carl were going to get more than his share under the new feeding system. Decidedly not a gentleman, he shoved the ladies of his harem away from the advantageous positions and lifted his huge bulk almost clear out of the water to catch the majority of the fish. Sea lions bark, Mr. Bean explained, but the noise that the eight cows set up yesterday sounded like nothing more or less than a yowl.

Four hundred railroad conductors, who have been in Chicago the last week attending the triennial meeting of the Order of Railway Conductors of America, took a busman's holiday yesterday by going for a sightseeing trip on the Milwaukee railroad to Milwaukee, Wis. The sightseeing train left Union station shortly before 10 a. m. and did not return until evening. The union delegates will conclude their convention this week.

Constant Research Makes the Prevention of Baldness Possible

CHICAGO, May 5th (J. W.)—Science has never discovered a way to grow hair on a bald head — and baldness remains a permanent condition except in very rare cases to the unfortunates so afflicted, but rapid strides have been made by the John E. Warner Associates in the prevention of Baldness. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through the Warner method of treatment, but no case is ever accepted unless beneficial results are certain. Hundreds of men and women are treated each week in some of the largest and best equipped offices of this kind in the world, located in Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, and Pittsburgh. This service is now available to the people of Chicago through the new office here. There is never any charge for a private examination or consultation at these offices—and in every case honest advice is given as to whether or not treatment can be helpful. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if caught in time. Many cases treated have resulted in a more luxuriant growth of the hair and a greatly improved appearance. Each case is studied individually and constantly and each person treated is given detailed instructions at the conclusion of the treatment so that a healthy head of hair is a permanent condition. The new Chicago offices of John E. Warner Associates are conveniently located at Suite 1320-24 North American Bldg., 36 S. State (northwest corner State and Monroe). Phone Central 1451. Hours 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily, Saturday to 6 p. m. Fees for treatment are moderate and are paid as the treatments are taken. There is a separate department for women.

Life Insurance Helped This Small Businessman

Your column of April 28 in the Register (writes D. J. of New Haven), about life insurance helping a technical engineer start his own business, impressed me a lot, because I had an experience along the same general lines.

About 20 years ago, I owned a small confectioner's store in this city. It was a store you couldn't do a great deal with, because it was in such a poor spot, and I wanted to buy a bigger store that was up for sale in a much better business spot.

The trouble was, the owner of the big store wanted $6,000 and I couldn't sell my store for more than $2,000. Where was I going to get the extra $4,000?

I tried everywhere. My record was good enough, but they all asked what would happen to their money if I died, and I had no answer for that.

One day I told my troubles to a life insurance agent. "I guess I'll have to give up," I said. "I don't know what to do."

"I'll tell you one thing you can do," he said. "Insure your life for the extra $4,000 and assign the policy to the fellow who lends you the money. If you die, he'll be covered. Someone ought to lend you the money on that basis."

Someone did—it was a bank—and I bought the big store. In the first year I made enough money to pay off the loan, and that gave me my insurance policy back clear of all encumbrances. Which was a good thing for me, because just a few years ago, when times were bad, I borrowed enough on that same policy to carry me through some bad money troubles.

Well, you hear a lot about life insurance helping widows and children who can't take care of themselves, and that's the biggest use for it, and ought to be, of course—but I think people ought to remember that life insurance can do other things, too, such as helping a small businessman like myself.

TVA CALLS UPON PRIVATE POWER FIRMS FOR HELP

Begins New Transmission Line to Link North.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 25 (AP).—Construction of a 110 mile transmission line from Norris in east Tennessee to Pineville and Hazard, Ky., linking Tenessee Valley Authority with power resources of private northern utilities, was started yesterday, J. A. Krug, chief power engineer of TVA, revealed tonight.

The action was taken to relieve a shortage of power in the TVA system of hydro-electric dams. Officials of TVA blame the shortage on low water in the rivers feeding the system.

Krug said efforts would be made to complete the major undertaking within four months, adding "if we do, it will be something of an engineering masterpiece."

One Continuous System.

It will link the TVA system with that of the American Gas and Electric Co., of New York, which has several power companies and, like TVA, is one continuous system, extending thru West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, and to Chicago, with connections at Pittsburgh.

The Kentucky and Louisville electric systems also have agreed to cooperate in the national hookup, and the new transmission line will tap the Kentucky system at Plainville, Ky., and the Louisville system at Pineville.

In addition to this vast source of power, Krug said that about 50 abandoned steam generating plants over the south were being put into operation and that power from these would be fed directly over TVA lines to the aluminum plant at Alcoa.

Provide Maximum Power.

Coördination of all power systems will provide for maximum power and maximum efficiency in operation, Krug said, giving all current above usual needs to industries not only in Alcoa but all other plants in the south engaged in government orders.

Krug described "getting all available power" to the aluminum plant as the immediate problem. He described the hydro-electric source of power inadequate to meet armament production needs during low water and said that every resource possible is being used to get emergency power needed from other sources.

Cities and towns thruout Tennessee also were requested by the TVA and private power companies to curtail the use of electricity to save power for the industries working on armament orders.

Will Close Pumping Station.

In Knoxville, heart of the TVA network, Max Bartlett, general manager of the municipal utilities board, announced that the city "will coöperate the best way we know how."

"Beginning tomorrow the electric pump system which now pumps the city's water supply will be shut down," said Bartlett. "The original steam system will be fired up and put back in action. By doing this we will be able to turn back the TVA electricity normally used by the electric system and thus help a little.

"We can save additional power by restricting or forbidding its use for electric signs, such recreational uses as lighting of softball parks and night tennis courts. And by the discontinuance of ornamental street lighting."

Two armed bandits entered a tavern at 408 West 103d street last night and, after vainly trying to open the cash register, ordered the owner, John Wallis, 51, to do so. JEWISH WELFARE BOARD'S ROLE IN USO WORK TOLD

The place of the Jewish Welfare board in the United Service Organizations was described last night by Charles P. Taft, assistant coördinator of health, welfare, and related defense activities, at a national meeting of the board in the Standard club. The board closes its three day conference today. Taft explained that the USO views the soldier as being no different from any other individual and that the preservation of his personality and individuality is the USO's first obligation.

"The Jewish Welfare board is part and parcel of the USO, which includes the YMCA, the National Catholic Community service, the YWCA, the Salvation Army, and the National Travelers' Aid association," Taft declared. "The Jewish board is going to do its share to maintain the civilian contacts of the men in uniform."

Officers reëlected yesterday are Frank L. Weil, president; Judge Irving Lehman of New York City, honorary president; Mrs. Felix M. Warburg, vice chairman, and Mrs. Walter E. Heller of Chicago, vice president. Today's sessions will be devoted to the board's army and navy committee. Gen. James E. Ulio, chief of the morale division of the army, and Rear Admiral Edward A. Evers, commander of the 4th naval reserve area, will be principal speakers.

A horse bit Virginia Larson, 3 years old, on the lower lip yesterday. She told her parents she was petting the animal, which was hitched to a peddler's wagon near her home at 1405 Van Buren street. She said she accidentally stuck her finger in its nostril and it bit her. Police and health department officials were hunting for the horse to examine it for rabies. Virginia was treated at County hospital.

NUTRITION EXPERTS WILL MAP PROGRAM TO CONSERVE FOOD

Washington, D. C., May 25 (AP).—More than 500 of the country's experts on nutrition and the economic aspects of food production and distribution will begin a three day "national nutrition conference for defense" here tomorrow.

The aim of the conference, called by President Roosevelt, is similar to that of the first world war, when former President Herbert Hoover organized the first nation-wide effort to produce more food and to conserve every ounce possible.

In an interview today Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service and member of the nutrition advisory committee, said that "the provision of adequate supplies of food is absolutely essential if the physical output of our factories is to keep pace with the urgent needs of Britain and our own urgent needs for defense."

The principal objective of the conference is to work out methods of seeing that the diets of 30 million families are adequate.

He is being sought here on a warrant for his removal to New York.

Bioff has lived in California for years, with the exception of five months last year that he spent in the Bridewell, serving a sentence for pandering imposed here 20 years ago.

"Sh-h-h, Junior! Papa's making a public statement!"

MANY a public career sprouts and burgeons into bloom in a newspaper's "Letters to the Editor" columns. For here, a private citizen—if only for a moment—may join the ranks of public figures.

In The New York Times, letters to the editor often are big news . . . so big, in fact, that they have been picked up as front page news from coast to coast.

In recent months, The Times has published letters signed by a Supreme Court Justice, two cabinet members, union leaders, Major-Generals, diplomats, Bishops, prominent educators, Congressmen, Mayors, Governors, several well-known authors, and national figures in banking, journalism, municipal government.

The unique position of The Times as a "national newspaper" naturally gets it the attention of people with important things to say . . . and of many advertisers with important things to sell.

SUGGESTIONS ON NUTRITION.

The national nutrition conference for defense is beginning its meetings in Washington. Among the questions on the announced agenda is "How to solve the twin problems of undernutrition and of farm surpluses."

These problems would solve themselves if the government could be persuaded to stand aside. With more persons employed than ever before, and with the national income the greatest of all time, people would eat up the farm surpluses and relieve their undernourishment if the government would let them. It won't.

The very fact that such a conference is being held indicates that there is a considerable number of people who are not getting enough to eat. And the important reason for that is that the government has purchased and locked up much of the available supplies. Purchases by the government's Surplus Commodity corporation keep away from the consumers large quantities of pork, bacon, lard, butter, cheese, eggs, and other foods. By loans the government has sealed in elevators and in cribs on farms vast stocks of corn and wheat. At times the government has even gone further. It has actually bought and destroyed vast amounts of food products. In one operation in a single year 6 million pigs were killed and their carcasses rendered unfit for human consumption. There was much undernutrition that year.

The declared object of these operations is to make the consumers pay more. And some people cannot afford to. They spend as much for food as they did before prices were raised, and that isn't enough for a full diet. The rigging of food prices makes some people go hungry. There you see why there is undernutrition.

And does all this benefit the farmer? It would if he could go on producing the same amount of food as before and sell at the higher prices. But the government couples its loans with restrictions on production. Last Monday the secretary praised the bill which congress passed authorizing wheat loans of 96 cents a bushel. The price of wheat has soared. But three days later the secretary announced that farmers would have to reduce their acreage by 11 per cent. Only 55 million acres can be sown with wheat for the 1942 crop. That compares with 81 million acres in 1937 and 62 million acres this year.

The income of farmers is the product of the amount raised and the price. A reduction in the harvest may more than offset an advance in price. A big carryover of wheat busted many a wheat farmer in 1934, when there was a drouth. If, because of unfavorable weather, farmers in 1942 should harvest only a small crop, there is a strong probability that they will have a smaller total income than they would have had if the government had not rigged the price in 1941 and the farmers had used their own judgment about planting. The department of agriculture has a study, which it has never published, which showed that the cotton program in at least one year had severely reduced the income of southern farmers.

If undernutrition is a problem in the coming year it will be due to the fact that the government is reducing the amount of food coming on the market below the level necessary to maintain a high standard of living. And also, it is as likely that the income of farmers in the coming year will prove disappointing because of the competition of a large carryover with a small crop. The nutrition conferees might solve their twin problems by persuading the government to abandon its twin agricultural mistakes, price rigging, and crop reduction.

THE PAROLE ACT.

Gov. Green has signed the parole reform bill and the present parole machinery, a source of almost constant political scandal for years, will come to an end July 1.

The new act makes two important changes in the parole system. It retains the indeterminate sentences now on the statute books for most crimes, but imposes additional and important duties on the courts in its requirement that for each convicted offender the court set a maximum and minimum sentence within the present indeterminate sentence limits. The maximum and minimum sentence principle was embodied in the Ward-Schnackenberg bills, which were the precursors of the present legislation.

Adequate provision is made for the judge, after a conviction, to inquire into the previous record of the defendant as an aid to determining the proper limits of the sentence. The maximum and minimum sentences should make for improvement of criminal jurisprudence in the state. It was argued against them that they would lead to nonuniformity in the punishment of crime. That is more an asset than a liability. Criminals are not uniform, either in their personality or in their potential danger to the community. A sentence fixed in open court, fresh upon hearing of the evidence, is more likely to deal substantial justice than one fixed behind closed doors by a parole board after public memory of the crime has died, and when the only persons actively interested in the case are those who for political, pecuniary, or sentimental reasons wish to loose a criminal on the public.

At Gov. Green's insistence, the sentences fixed by the courts are to be only advisory, but are to stand unless they are revised by vote of four out of five members of the new parole board. It remains to be seen whether the new board will interfere in a high percentage of cases. Good practice will dictate that it use its powers sparingly.

For all practical purposes the governor is his own parole board under the new setup. The five members are his appointees, whom he can remove at any time, and thus must be considered subject to his will. At the same time the setup of the new board has the advantage that its members will be actively engaged in penal administration and thus will bring to the governor a body of experience and expert advice superior, on the whole, to that of the superseded board.

The act should improve the parole system, but it cannot be fairly said to have taken paroles out of politics. The latter, perhaps, is a Utopian objective, so long as the governorship and, to a lesser extent, the bench, remain political offices. The new act has the advantage of placing parole responsibility squarely on the governor. The disadvantage is that some time in the future that power may be misused. That is a risk that can be accepted, at least for the next three years. Gov. Green's character, as well as his experience in the criminal law in federal courts, is a fair guarantee that the abuse will not come from him.

A CAMPAIGN OF FRAUD AND DECEPTION.

A two way trans-Atlantic discussion has been arranged for Mayor La Guardia of New York and Herbert Morrison, British minister for home security. La Guardia has just been appointed to the phony job of national director of civilian defense. He is to terrorize the people. He and Mr. Morrison will go on the air while the New Yorker takes public instruction from London on how American citizens may plan for debris clearance, create efficient fire fighting units, maintain vitally important public utilities, and protect the public health while bombs are raining down.

Mr. La Guardia has said that New York is a most attractive and tempting target. Sidney Hillman, associate defense director, has warned that the city might become a second London. "We cannot wait until our whole seaboard becomes a line of flaming cities." Col. William J. Donovan, recently promise monger to deluded Balkan countries, has conjured up the imminent dangers to which the American populace is exposed.

Last December Mr. Roosevelt said: "Never before since Jamestown and Plymouth Rock has our American civilization been in such danger as it is now." William C. Bullitt, lately ambassador to France, followed his chief by saying that our country is in such danger today that our decisions now are as vital "as if we already had been attacked."

"The jaws of the Nazi trap are closing," said Secretary of the Navy Knox. "We are in deadly peril." Secretary Stimson, asking for the use of the American navy at once, said that it might become a comparatively simple matter for hostile nations to establish air bases within striking distance of our great industrial cities. The oceans overnight might become easy channels for the path of attack against us.

These expressions of fear, all inspired in the White House, have been a part of the campaign artfully conducted for a year or more to stampede the American people into the belief that they are exposed to immediate attack, that their cities may be shelled and bombed, that troops may land on our shores just as they landed in Crete, and that the nation is in immediate danger of being engulfed in tides of invasion if it does not immediately go to war.

The war propagandists have tried to instill these fears in the interior of the country as well as in the communities of the seaboard. The intention has been to work upon the emotions of the nation until it would be prepared to accept the final step which Mr. Roosevelt is trying to take. Upon one pretext and another he seeks the final commitment of the United States in a war which would involve it for years. We are told that we have gone too far to go back and if we resist the demand for military action we shall be lost.

Unprotected and alone, we shall be subjected to the fury of enemies seeking to despoil us, rob us of everything worth living for, and put us under the domination of a brutal despotism. By falsifications the opinion of the country is assaulted, its situation is misrepresented, its prospects are distorted, and every device is employed to accomplish a purpose which may be destructive to the republic.

The first move Mr. Roosevelt has in mind, as indicated by the statements of Secretary Hull, Secretary Stimson, and Secretary Knox, is to send the navy into the Atlantic war zones, into British ports, and the English channel. It would only sacrifice our warships if the navy went into the British channel. The British navy itself is not there. Airplanes operating close to landing fields are at their best advantage against surface craft in such confined waters.

It would be insane to send our navy to the Mediterranean with the British navy driven to the eastern end. It would be insane to send our young men to the fever regions of equatorial Africa, or to the deserts, or to Egypt to help preserve the growth of cotton to compete with our own.

Since nothing useful can be done on the Atlantic, shall we send our navy over to Japan to fight at every possible disadvantage, with nothing to gain if it wins and with the nation facing ruin if it loses?

This has been a campaign of deception, of false alarms, of shrill frightfulness, and of cunning manipulation of fears and emotions. Some of the protagonists may have been carried away by their own words, but the more astute of them have not been. They chose this way because they thought it was the only way by which they could repudiate their promises and execute their intentions.

Editorial of the Day

WHO'S PASSING THE BUCK.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

The problem of effecting economies belongs to congress, says the President. He accuses congressional critics of government spending of being mere buck passers.

We doubt whether the people of the country will agree wholly with the President in this matter. In a time of stress such as this, economy is the problem of every citizen.

The humblest worker is supposed at this time to tighten his belt somewhat and to buy defense savings stamps and defense bonds. The President himself has asked for a spirit of "sacrifice." How, then, can he claim that the problem of government economy belongs exclusively with congress?

The President heads the costliest administration this country has ever had. The administration's requests for ordinary expenses get larger and larger. There is no "spirit of sacrifice" in official Washington. And there should be.

The President should lead in finding ways to effect savings. Congress should find more ways. Neither can sidestep responsibility. Neither should accuse the other of buck passing, at least until each has done everything which can be thought of to bring costs down.

MR. PEPYS PLANS A TRIP.

26th May—Was much pestered last week by the unseasonable warmth, and the rains, and mugginess, and the lightning striking near me now and then, and a fellow with a musical motor horn in my neighborhood who ought to be arrested, and broken whisky bottles in the vacant lots where I walk my dog, and the sourpuss expression every one has in the evening after reading the war news. So I decided to prepare for a holiday, fixing June 15 for the start.

I will journey to the southwest, which I have not seen and will not be too hot at this time of year, and going that way I will end up in California, and perhaps when I return I will be full of strange tales, but I promise not to talk about the movie people, who are too much talked about anyway. If I can escape them I will do so, for when in search of the wonders of the world I do not wish to waste time in picture factories and swimming pools.

I will take my camera, and geologist's hammer, and a two-handed wrench for removing car wheels, and maybe half a cord of mystery stories, and guidebooks on New Mexico, Arizona, and California, and Duncan Hines' treatises on where to eat and sleep, and a handful of maps, and several notebooks, and maybe my small typewriter. And except for glancing at the headlines I will not read a newspaper for three weeks, so that ought to be a good time for Mr. Churchill to tell about Mr. Hess. When I was away last summer Mr. Trotsky was slain, and I still do not know what happened, nor does any one else, it seems.

I will put my little dog in her summer boarding school, where she will be happy barking at other dogs, which seems to be her purpose in life. And every day I am away I will wonder how she is getting on.

THE CRESCENT MOON.

(A Legend for Lovers.)

The moon is a golden scimitar
Flung, long ago, by a warrior far
Into the night that all might know
How love had set his heart aglow—
How a veiled, dark-eyed daughter of kings
Had lulled him, playing on sweet lute strings.

I think it was by the pale Shalimar
Where he promised to quit his gold scimitar.
Together they gazed, then a mighty throw:
"I give up my sacred crusading, so!"
But the jewels of his bracelet, as he flings,
Soar into the heavens as tho on wings;
Slim blade and bright gems to eternity raised—
Gold moon and blue stars—Allah be praised!

Loud Cries for Sljivovica.

Your possession of one measly bottle of Croat plum brandy [May 20] in your booze basement-museum is nothing much to crow over. The question before the bar is: Where and how did you get it and what for are you keeping it? Did you bid it in at the auction of wet goods belonging to "Mine host the Cardinal [Bemis]" when the famous Hotel Richelieu was closed [1897]? According to the code of the newspaper coterie you should yank that alcoholic relic from the reliquary of your butler's pantry and mark it:

"Reserved for experimental cocktail concoction at the 1941 dinner of the Chicago Press Veterans." The old boys will try anything—once—at their own risk. Arthur W. O'Neill.

The Lost Art of Sight-Seeing on Foot.

Walking is nearly a lost art in Chicago, as you say [May 12]. Friends often invite me to motor in the evening, only to hear, "Thank you; I prefer to walk. To enjoy the great building over there [the Museum of Science and Industry] I have to walk. It cannot be appreciated when rushed by."

The WPA conducted tours, as you may remember, of historic houses, etc. A good idea if in the right hands. . . . On an Illinois Central train the other day I met a fine young fellow, newly arrived from the south, who knew nothing of the Prairie-Calumet avenues section of yore until we chatted. I wonder what George Pullman and the other vigorous characters of his period would say to the dry rot of today? A Looper.

INVITATION TO A WALK.

"Dear contribs, come and walk with me!"
The master did beseech;
"A pleasant walk, a pleasant talk,
Along Chicago's beach;
For I would have good company
To listen to my speech."

The earnest contribs looked at him;
"We're willing, sir!" they said;
"We'll follow where you lead; let's go!"
And what a race he led!
When it was ended, "Ouch!" they cried,
"We should 'a' stayed in bed!"

Want a puzzle? Suppose a man with a load of watermelons sells half to one customer and also gives him a half melon, and does this again and yet again, and then has one melon left to take home. With how many melons did he start? . . . Well, the answer is 15, but don't ring us up to ask why.

I keep away from kitchens, for I don't like to be in hot water, in the soup, in a stew, in a mess, in a mixup, in a pinch, in a jam, in a pickle, in the can or cooler, but I wouldn't mind being in the dough. Maxellus.

ALERTNESS WILL PREVENT HOME ACCIDENTS.

THIS is the season for housecleaning, papering, painting, and other maneuvers which break up happy households—at least, temporarily. Such occasions call for unusual vigilance if we are to avoid accidents. When the housewife mounts a ladder to take down or put up curtains, to hang pictures, and to carry out a hundred other operations incident to making the domicile attractive, she does so with considerable risk.

Few of us realize that more than one-third of all fatalities and one-half of all injuries occur in the home. The estimated economic loss is startling, for every illness costs something and those involving fractures are reasonably expensive.

Loose rugs will slip and slide on polished floors and hurry cannot fail to contribute to stumbles and falls. Stairways are fruitful aids of mishaps, particularly if they are poorly lighted or if one is going up or down with the arms full of bundles. Then, too, burns and scalds are common in the course of cooking, laundering, ironing, etc.

Children encounter most of their misadventures while at play—usually because of their ancestral climbing tendencies. A low building or a pile of timber constitutes a challenge. This means that in "policing" the premises every loose bit of rubbish should be gathered up and disposed of, as cuts on the feet and hands may be followed by infections.

It goes without saying that we could save half of our disabilities from all such causes with more orderliness. This includes every room, the basement, the yard, and the garage. Some one has said that dirt is anything that is out of place. Toys that are left scattered about are ready sources of tumbles. In one home, a pair of roller skates left by Bobby on the back steps tripped his father. Result—a broken hip. Children do not need to be very old before they can be taught to pick up their playthings and put them away.

Prevention lies in the ability to "look sharp." This implies some thought about every move. True enough, good housekeeping, with neatness and efficiency, will lull us into going about automatically and may lead to bumping into a misplaced chair. Many a tot has been marked for life because some one placed a tub or bucket of scalding water in his pathway.

But no age is exempt, altho the number of casualties increases as eyesight dims and hearing dulls. In the period between 45 and 64 will be found the largest number of victims. The outcome of dashing to answer the telephone and tripping over a lamp cord may be a catastrophe. For many, recovery is complete; with others, some permanent incapacity will ensue. The difficulty lies in the fact that repair in older persons is slow.

Leave to dry cleaners jobs that can be done better and safer by them. For example, a woman who desired to renovate a pair of gloves placed them on her hands and washed them in an open pan of gasoline. Because they did not dry rapidly enough she inserted her hands in a lighted gas oven.

Mistakes with medicine are not infrequent. This means that every container in the cabinet should be marked plainly and that no one should take anything without reading the label carefully. Furthermore, all remedies should be out of reach of youngsters, as a sugar coated cathartic pill, suitable for adults, may give rise to a severe illness in a child.

It is far easier to control trouble in a well regulated industrial plant than in our living quarters where the traffic is so heavy.

HOPES THEY'LL GO FISHING.

Chicago, May 23.—I trust the war mongers will not use Memorial day as another opportune time for their propaganda. That day is consecrated to the heroic dead of the civil, Spanish-American, and first world wars.

Roosevelt, Stimson, Knox, Ickes, & Co. should spend the day fishing and allow us, the common people, to pay annual tribute to our honored dead without having to listen to their bellicose and fist shaking vaporings. Clay T. Held.

CHEERING TO LITHUANIA.

Chicago, May 20.—The official visit of his excellency the president of Lithuania and Madame Antanas Smetona in Chicago ended the other day. The president and Madame Smetona have since been paying social and private visits.

I take this opportunity to thank you for the splendid write-ups and photographs of the official visit which you were kind enough to publish.

Please be assured that the president of Lithuania, the Lithuanian people, and the undersigned are truly grateful to your paper for the publicity given to them at this important time when the republic of Lithuania is under occupation of soviet Russia and the Lithuanian nation is oppressed and enslaved by the bolsheviks. Your support of the cause for the independence of Lithuania and the freedom of the Lithuanian nation is cheering to the Americans of Lithuanian descent.

Petras Dauzvardis,
Consul of Lithuania.

THE CHEERY JANITOR.

Chicago, May 22.—Did you ever notice how cheerful janitors are? We've lived in Chicago 28 years and have never encountered a janitor who was grouchy. They go into a huddle at every back gate. You wonder what they talk about. Do they discuss the affairs of state, the war, their tenants or do they just tell little amusing yarns that they only understand? Before they disperse they send forth a laugh that is contagious. Don't you wonder how they keep our places so spick and span, when every one passing stops to give them valuable advice on how to sprinkle the lawn or scrub the front steps? The advise is always the same but they never lose their temper. My hat's off to the good natured janitors who number their friends by the thousands! Anne Jesty Rogers.

SMALL FACTORIES CLOSING.

Chicago, May 23.—As a salesman I have recently called on various small manufacturers who are being forced to close their doors because of inability to secure the metal used for the fabrication of their products.

The reason for this condition is the policy of the steel manufacturers and suppliers to confine their shipments to the larger consumers whose business they prefer and whose credit is more secure.

A situation of this nature merits action. The government has claimed that its policies were directed toward the protection of the small business man. If so let's see some steps taken to provide him with enough material to carry on a normal business. Edward Halpin.

WHY NOT VOTING MACHINES?

Chicago, May 23.—Attorney General Barrett announces that he has had drafted bills to "reduce vote frauds," and says that the changes will "put real teeth in the law."

What I would like to know is why the attorney general has done nothing to secure the passage of the voting machine law which has been reported favorably in the house and is pending before the senate elections committee.

The thing that makes possible vote frauds is the use of paper ballots. Since 1928 the use of voting machines has been mandatory in New York state.

A partial recount of votes in the last mayoralty campaign in Chicago revealed that Kelly, Democrat, received thousands of votes which should have been counted for Green, Republican. Where voting machines are in use contests and recounts are almost unknown.

If Mr. Barrett is "on the square" why does he not use his influence to help pass the voting machine law?

Robert W. McKinlay,
Former Chairman Board of Election Commissioners.

POLICE SCARCE IN PARKS.

Chicago, May 21.—A Gary steel worker was shot and killed today when he and his girl friend were parked in his car in Jackson park, a victim of a bandit. How many more of these outrages will occur before the park district adds to its police force? A taxpaying citizen is almost afraid to enter one of his public parks. Women and young children are constantly molested by park morons and rowdies, but they can never find a patrolman.

The park force now has over 50 vacancies and the board is not only neglecting to fill these jobs but now threatens to reduce the force even more so there may be more money available for "defense." I believe our "defense" should start right here at home in our Chicago parks; defend our peace loving Chicagoans.

Waldo Anderson.

OVERWORKED CHILDREN.

Chicago, May 21.—Is there any authority in the schools or the children's court that supervises the hiring of children after school hours? I have in mind three appalling cases where children are exploited. One in particular is a delicate child of 14 who comes to do housework in a professional man's home after school. She works from 3 until 10, or after, all day Saturday and all day Sunday. She was hired as a mother's helper but her day consists of scrubbing, cooking, dishwashing, and then she finishes the day with laundry work for three babies in the family—work that would tire a strong woman—and all for the magnificent salary of $3.50 week. Certainly if the children in our schools must seek part time employment the principal or some one in charge should make an effort to help them find decent work.

Frances Taylor.

THE NOISY BUSES.

Chicago, May 20.—Why arrest an occasional motorcyclist for noise when there are hundreds of buses on the streets all day and all night, any one of said buses making more noise on the pickup than a dozen motorcycles? It is inexcusable that the buses should be allowed to go on making night and day hideous at the present time when motorcar engineers have practically eliminated the noise of the motor. J. H. M.

VARIOUS IRRITATIONS.

Chicago, May 22.—Things that irritate me:

Soldiers drafted for $21 a month while well paid labor makes trouble by work stoppage.

Government looking for more people and things to tax, but making no effort to remove nonessential wasteful expenses.

Jap "business men tourists" enjoying our country freely with a minimum of one camera per tourist.

German and Italian language programs on our radios.

Oil still going to Japan.

Princess Hohenlohe still here.

Bridges too, thanks to Perkins.

No action to redistrict Illinois per '40 census altho law says it must be done.

F. T. Benjamin.

AIR IN LAKE STREET L CARS.

Chicago, May 23.—The other evening I rode on the Lake street "L." The train consisted of eight cars and left Lake and State station about 5:15 p. m. The temperature outside was in the 80s. The car I entered was the same as the other seven—scrowded and hot. Only two or three windows were opened and I wondered why not more. I found out. One of the passengers tried to open a window. He tugged, but to no avail. He then pounded the frame with the palm of his hand. He accidentally shattered the glass and cut his hand. "L" officials might wish to locate him—not to compensate him for the cuts but to have him replace the pane. Yes, the windows were stuck, but what is the poor riding public to do to get relief? F. J. K.

IS IT UP TO THE MOTHERS?

Chicago, May 22.—Perhaps these mothers who are so keen to keep their sons out of war should look at the record. Statistics are showing that the health of the men going into camp is much inferior even to that in 1917. When a woman's son has a poor physical equipment, what is the matter? An American Woman.

PREPARATION OF WILL.

Chicago, May 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise procedure in connection with executing short form of will in the following hypothetical case:

Individual has title to home, value $5,500, subject to mortgage of $3,000. Various marketable securities owned, valued at $3,000. Therefore net value of estate would be $5,500.

1. Is it necessary to name an executor in the will—husband and/or children being the survivors?

2. Is it necessary to enumerate each item of property at time of drawing up will—viz: description of real property, name of each stock and bond?

3. Is a will drawn up as above and for a situation as above described required to be handled by a Probate court in order to effect transfer of ownership of property to the beneficiary? J. H. M.

1. No. But ordinarily it is advisable. If instead you leave the court to appoint a personal representative that would involve additional expense.

2. No. Provided the meaning is made clear by general wording.

3. On the death of the testator the will must go thru probate in order to be effective. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

The Great American Debate

In view of intense public interest, The Tribune today begins publication of The Great American Debate, a department devoted to the views of interventionists and noninterventionists on the war. This space is being turned over to the two leading organizations with opposing viewpoints—the America First committee for the noninterventionists and the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies for the interventionists. The committees are at liberty to say what they wish without interference from The Tribune, subject only to the limitations imposed by the laws of libel, and they accept full responsibility for their statements. Neither side will see the other's copy before it is published. Here are today's arguments:

[Provided by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.]

F. D. R. Will Speak

Tomorrow night Franklin Delano Roosevelt will speak to the people of the United States as their President. Whatever he says will make history. Hard pressed on every front, the democracies desperately need weapons—now. The defense lifeline between the Americas and Britain is fraying thin. Too many ships loaded from the arsenal of democracy are going down. What shall we do?

In this crisis the President's shoulders bear a heavy load. Under our constitution he is charged with the conduct of foreign affairs, as well as being sworn to guard our safety as commander in chief of the army and navy.

The American people have given the President these responsibilities under a mandate to speed aid to the allies. Whether we voted for him or not, we are Americans. F. D. R. is our elected President. We await his speech to hear what our country must do to make sure of its own security by making sure that the aid we demanded is effective. That aid is not being made effective—now.

Rear Admiral William A. Glassford warned us only last week that the war is being lost in the Atlantic. Here is how this practical old sea dog, commanding the American Yangtse patrol, sizes up our situation:

"There is only one thing that can be done and that is to see to it that the ships get safely across the ocean. How it is to be done remains to be seen, but whether by convoys or otherwise, we cannot permit the situation to continue with sinkings which are five against two of replacement."

The Gallup poll shows 71 per cent of the American people favoring convoys if it appears that Britain will otherwise be defeated. That time now threatens. It may be later than we think.

We have all prayed that this war would not come to involve us. We have all hoped and prayed that our country might be spared. But for all our hopes and prayers it has pushed closer and closer to us. We can feel the hot breath of world war and world revolution from the east and from the west. We are surrounded.

Those who murdered liberty on one continent are stabbing into two others. They have sworn that democracy must die everywhere.

The dictators have parlayed their world war and world revolution across the board, grasping ever closer to the western hemisphere itself. With their fifth columns, their propaganda, and their sabotage, they have already invaded South America and Central America. THEY HAVE ALREADY INVADED US.

We cannot escape this challenge. We cannot meet it with words or with supplies on the bottom of the ocean. Yet, meet it we must. We must meet it with action, effective action. Whatever the cost, we must remove this threat to the safety of our homes. Tomorrow night F. D. R. will give us the facts and the leadership that only our elected commander in chief can give. Will you strengthen his hand in meeting this menace?

A noisy minority would have the President take an ineffective and dangerous course. The great majority, that knows where our safety lies, must make itself heard.

Wire the President today that you will support wholeheartedly all courageous leadership he gives us Tuesday night for strong and quick action to stop Hitler over there.

Tell him that you believe that any compromise with the aggressors' axis would be fatal to America. Tell him that you do not believe our two oceans are enough to keep Hitler away from America. Tell him that you do not want America to do too little and do that too late! Wire the President today.

ONLY 21% WANT U.S. TO GO TO WAR, SAYS DR. GALLUP

55% Without Opinion, Round Table Told.

Only 21 per cent of the American people favor the entry of the United States into the European war, Dr. George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, said yesterday.

He said 24 per cent of the people favor staying out even if the axis is victorious and Britain falls. Dr. Gallup said the remaining 55 per cent —representing 25 or 30 million voters —have formed no opinion on the issue.

Benton Joins Discussion.

Dr. Gallup spoke on the University of Chicago round table broadcast. Joining in the discussion were William B. Benton, vice president of the university and a former advertising executive, and Harold D. Lasswell of Washington, D. C., a politics analyst.

Dr. Gallup said the pro-war group is "rather highly educated, friendly to Britain, and largely located in southern states."

"The pro-war group," Benton added, "includes those who have the most to lose by a change in the status quo if Britain falls—the upper income group, in general."

Anti-War Group Described.

Lasswell said the anti-war group consisted of "isolationists, friends of Germany, genuine pacificists, and sincere patriots who believe America need not go to war."

In discussing the poll question: "Which of the following things do you think the United States should do—keep out of war, or aid Britain even at the risk of war?" the three agreed that clearer definition might cause different poll results.

"The word 'risk' should be defined in terms of 50,000 filled coffins, 500,000 filled coffins, a million filled coffins, or 5 million filled coffins," Benton said.

General Club Federation Meets in Texas Next Year

Atlantic City, N. J., May 25 (AP).—Directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs chose Austin, Tex., today as the organization's 1942 convention city. Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, newly elected federation president, said that the time of the convention would be decided later. She said the board had indicated its willingness to award the 1943 convention to Indianapolis, but that confirmation would be withheld pending conferences with Indiana leaders.

According to CULBERTSON

(Copyright 1941 By Ely Culbertson.)

On many occasions the best the defenders can do with their limited resources is to "stall" and give the declarer an opportunity to make a mistake. That was West's only chance in today's hand.

After North's raise to four spades South reasoned that his own bidding thus far would have been the same with a small spade substituted for the ace. He decided that if North were willing to go to game when that might be the case, his actual hand probably would furnish a good play for a slam.

West, after some thought, opened a trump. It was as apparent to him as to South that North had at most a singleton club; hence it seemed a good idea to cut down the number of ruffs in dummy. Declarer won the first trick with dummy's king of spades, cashed the club ace [for some obscure reason], and returned a small heart.

Had West taken this trick, South would have had no problems. It would have been simple for him to win any return, draw the trumps, and discard all his losers on dummy's established hearts.

West could see this as well as South, and, in desperation, allowed South to win with the jack of hearts. This gave declarer the opportunity to go wrong.

South ruffed a low club in dummy and ruffed a low heart in order to return to his hand. He then ruffed the jack of clubs with dummy's last trump and returned the king of hearts. When East played low, South discarded his last club and West won with the ace. West now returned a diamond, and South was faced with a difficult choice. If he won this trick in dummy, he could return to his hand only by ruffing a heart. This would be fatal if the outstanding trumps had originally been divided 4-1. The only alternative was to let West's diamond lead ride around to his jack, but the success of this plan would depend on West's having the queen of diamonds.

South decided to gamble on a favorable trump break, hence won the diamond lead in dummy. The bad trump break then defeated the contract.

It is scarcely necessary to say that South mangled the hand, almost from start to finish, but the fact remains that West's hold-up of the heart ace, at the risk of losing it, was a shrewd maneuver that gave his side a fighting chance.

Young Pianist Shows Unusual Talent in Debut

BY CECIL SMITH.

Carl Saliani, young New York pianist, showed a superior talent in his Kimball hall debut recital yesterday. In spite of a few forgivable slips, no doubt caused by the nervousness of a first appearance, he played with a sturdy but unforced tone, and with admirable rhythmic precision and clarity.

He is fully responsive to the natural demands of a flowing melodic line. In the Beethoven sonata, opus 31, number 2, the slow movement was particularly warm and communicative. An etude and a nocturne by Chopin were delivered with real emotional power and cohesive structure.

In Curtiss hall last evening the Modern Musical guild presented a joint recital by William Faldner, violinist, and Ruth Kaufman, pianist. In the Vitali Chaconne Mr. Faldner played with strength and vigor, and with the kind of confidence that betokens well grounded and dependable musicianship. In Heifetz' arrangement of a Hummel Rondo, he showed that his playing would profit, in light music, from greater delicacy and aristocracy of phrasing and a little sense of humor. Mr. Faldner gave the first performance of Bernard Brindel's "Recollections," in which the composer seemed to be trying to recollect Fauré and Chausson.

Ruth Kaufman's performance of a Haydn E flat piano sonata was still in the studio stage.

The Jewish People's Choral society, Eugene Malek, conductor, gave its 27th annual concert in the Great Northern theater yesterday afternoon. The program included an oratorio, "Biro-Bidjan," by the late Jacob Schaefer. George Sopkin played a group of cello solos.

Presbyterian Leader Offers Plan for Peace

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 25.—Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, moderator of the 153d general assembly of the Presbyterian church, today outlined the steps which he said Christians should take toward world peace. These are diplomacy, arbitration, judicial procedure, and finally, when these fail, "nonintercourse."

Enlarging on the last step, Dr. Smith quoted the New Testament injunction, "if he neglect to hear the church let him be unto thee a heathen and a publican."

"To treat a man as a publican," Dr. Smith explained, "is simply to have no dealings with him. The advice of Christ would mean, translated into national terms, that if any nation defies public opinion of an international court, the powers might pronounce a decree of nonintercourse."

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

We like a luminous makeup—on certain people. It's a fashion that came out of Hollywood a couple of years ago, and while not every one can wear it, it's "terrific," to use an appropriately Hollywoodish word, on those who can. A definite sheen to the skin is immensely flattering to a certain type, preferably the outdoor.

There's a special makeup for it, a cream that is deftly blended over the immaculately clean skin. The cream is medium in texture, very easy to blend smoothly, and available in eight shades that should take care of just about every one, from the lily-fair to the deeply sun tanned.

If you want the luminous, radiant sheen you apply the cream and don't blot it with tissues. Just let it shine. If you need rouge, blend a little [of the cream variety] over the cheek bones. Then lipstick, of course, but no powder to dim the luster. This is a good makeup, really a distinguished one, for the woman with bright eyes and regular features. It intensifies the type of beauty that's sparkling and vital.

This makeup isn't restricted to those who want that shiny look. You can use the cream as a foundation for regular makeup, but in this case you do blot it with tissues after blending.

EVENTS of the STAGE

"Accent on Youth," with Luther Adler and Sylvia Sidney, will be presented at the Selwyn theater, and not at the originally designated Blackstone. The opening date, Tuesday, June 3, has not been changed.

A large audience bade farewell to "Life with Father" at the Blackstone theater Saturday evening. At the close of the play the principals were recalled again and again. Virgilia Chew, who played the part of Cousin Cora, broke into tears, and several other members of the cast seemed to be on the point of following her example. The comedy, which broke all existing Chicago records, ran for 66 weeks, grossing more than $850,000—an average weekly intake of almost $13,000.

Maurice Evans, now appearing with Helen Hayes in "Twelfth Night" at the Erlanger theater, will play in "Macbeth" next season. The production is promised as one of the six local Theater guild subscription plays. The other five plays in the tentative subscription list for next year are as follows: Katharine Hepburn in a new play by Philip Barry, author of "The Philadelphia Story"; Helen Hayes in Maxwell Anderson's new "Candle in the Wind"; Fredric March and Florence Eldridge in Sophie Treadwells' "Hope for a Harvest"; "Claudia," by Rose Franken, and John Van Druten's "Old Acquaintance," with Jane Cowl and Peggy Wood. In 1940-'41 there were 9,341 Theater guild subscribers in Chicago.

April Song.

Fiddle de dum,
Fiddle de de,
There is a girl
Somewhere for me.

Her patience is short,
Her dresses are long
[The reverse, I mean,
I'm often wrong].

Her voice is curvy,
Her shape, a bell
[That's backward, as you
Can doubtless tell].

But don't despair,
I'll get it straight.
Better, I say,
Never, than late!

In the Morning Mail.

When the people of Edgebrook and Sauganash asked city fathers to move the Lincoln park statue of Billy Caldwell [Chief Sauganash] out to their community, they discovered they were living on a "reservation." The two communities were part of the original territory awarded Chief Sauganash for distinguished service to the United States government—territory known then and still described legally as the "Billy Caldwell reservation." Surrounded by forest preserve, the tract has several Indian marker trees, trunks bent at right angles to mark Indian trails. Comes twilight, and shadows of Indian braves haunt the river banks—just like those shadows that haunt the backstage corridors of the opera house after the season is over. . . . —Paleface.

Printing Papers.

Wright D. Jackson II. ran across the following ditty by an anonymous poet the other day in a book by William Bond Wheelwright, published in 1936 by the University of Chicago Press. The book is on printing papers and concerns the various types of wood pulp used in the manufacture of paper. The ditty:

"See that spruce against the sky?
That is Harper's for July.
And the poplar in the canyon
Is the Woman's Home Companion."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

As the ads inform you, "The Great Commandment" is "different."

It's a blend of old and new. 30 A. D., locale, story, settings, and costumes with modern overtones in the way of implication and dialog. . . . Its hero is Joel, son of the scribe, Lamech, and head of a band of youthful zealots, sworn to wipe out Roman rule as forced on the people by Pontius Pilate. . . . The idea of the zealots is to meet force with force. . . . Then——

Comes word of a man who is quietly traversing the countryside, expounding a new way of life. Of overcoming evil with good. . . . Joel sets forth to see what manner of leader this is; is convinced that the Messiah, for whom his people have been waiting, has arrived, and hurries home with a new philosophy and a new message.

That's just the blocking of the tale. Detail is colorful and interesting. You find a love story in which Joel and his brother are rivals for the hand of the lovely Tamar. . . . Then, there is the case of the centurion, Longinus, a ruthless and rugged Roman, who gives up all previous ideas and associations to follow Him. . . .

The idea of "The Great Commandment" was conceived by an undergraduate student, James K. Friedrich, who quit school to try his luck in Hollywood, failed to get recognition, entered a theological seminary, and then, as a full fledged minister—with a bit of an inheritance to carry him along—bearded Hollywood again and found himself a producer.

Dana Burnett wrote the screen story, and a small group of professional players were hired to do the characterizations—all of which are most excellently presented. . . . Especially fine are Albert Dekker and Maurice Moscovich.

Able direction and quietly forceful narration are assets.

A simple picture—and an impressive one.

Music Clubs' Breakfast to Be June 3

Mrs. Ralph Applegate (left) and Mrs. Henry T. Roberts were photographed at a luncheon Mrs. Roberts and her sister, Mrs. Nelson Thomasson III., gave recently at the Woman's Athletic club to discuss plans for a silver and white breakfast to be given by the Illinois Federation of Music clubs, June 3.

Mrs. Frank G. Logan, Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker, Mrs. Loyal A. Davis, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, and Mrs. Charles S. Clark are to have the task of judging the tables at a silver and white breakfast to be given on Tuesday, June 3, by the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. J. A. Hervey and Mrs. Alma K. Anderson, both of Wisconsin, also will judge. Guests at the luncheon, to be given in the ballroom of the Woman's Athletic club, will sit at tables decorated by various musical clubs of the city.

Mrs. Royden J. Keith, president of the federation, inaugurated the white breakfast last year in memory of Mrs. Theodore Thomas. This year's is a silver and white one because this is the federation's 25th anniversary. Mrs. Henry T. Roberts is general chairman of arrangements and her sister, Mrs. Nelson Thomasson III., is in charge of a group of young women who will usher.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Cal., May 25.—Sunday—A morning golf foursome. Back home to write and file a column and then to Edgar Selwyn's. Veronica Lake is there with her young husband, John Detlie, and she's mighty enthusiastic about her new job in Preston Sturges' "Sullivan's Travels," a Hollywood yarn in which many notables, including Orson Welles, are mentioned by name.

Monday—Desk and telephone work, and lunch at Mike Romanoff's. Mike informs that his huge and hideous bulldog, Confucius, who is a town character, is donating his services in a British War Relief movie. . . . In the evening to see "Blood and Sand," and afterward a group of us go to see the Nunnally Johnsons' new house on a Beverly Glen hilltop. Our vote on the picture is heavily in its favor, four men and two women liking it very much and only two women saying they didn't care for it.

Tuesday—To Twentieth Century-Fox to watch Sonja Henie do a skating number for "Sun Valley Serenade." It's the most striking set I've ever seen. The big stage is inclosed by black curtains. Within is a dazzling white circle of hills and leafless trees, and in the circle is a rink of black ice. Nobody dares take a tumble, for the ice contains barrels of India ink. Several chorines have ruined their white costumes by doing flops, but Sonja, who has been working on the scene three days, has kept her feet. The camera is on a turntable in the middle of the rink. Time after time it shoots Miss Henie and her partner in a waltz step, and time after time something goes wrong. She does six leaps instead of five, or her skirt flies up ungracefully, or they're not "in sink" with the sound track. The music for the number has already been recorded, but isn't played back. Instead, a pianist gets it over a pair of earphones and follows it on the keys; and a drummer follows him to point up the beat.

Wednesday—To Columbia, to watch a few shots of "Girls from Panama" and to lunch with one of them, Jinx Falkenburg. The town's full of fotogs' models bent on movie careers. Some aren't doing so well, but others have caught on and Jinx is one. She's determined to be a good actress and will spend a month in Richard Aldrich's summer stock company on Cape Cod. . . . In the evening with Eyre Powell to the preopening dinner at the Hollywood Park track and there we see a fascinating gadget called the Del Piccio film patrol which will be used at the track all summer. It's a 16 millimeter movie camera swung beneath a $250 pair of binoculars. Eight of these will be used by judges spaced around the track. They'll shoot every foot of each race in color, and officials will view the films the next morning. It's figured to be a fine scheme to prevent jockeys from pulling funny tricks.

Thursday—To General Service studios, headquarters of Edward Small and Alexander Korda. Ilona Massey, Gene Lockhart, and George Zucco are a grim trio of spies in "International Lady." George Brent and Basil Rathbone are also involved, but don't happen to be working. Director Tim Whalen explains what he's trying to get—a comedy overlying a melodramatic plot. Most of the action takes place in an elaborate house and garden—but for real money spending the place to go is next door, where Korda is shooting Merle Oberon in "Illusions." His art director brother, Vincent, has blown the wad on a winter seacoast, with a real blizzard. The shriek of the snow machine as it grinds up 400 pound hunks of ice sounds like a couple of busy lumber mills. . . . To dine at Lucey's with Garson Kanin and to see the rough print of "Tom, Dick, and Harry."

Friday—Home work, and dinner at the David Hempsteads'. Michele Morgan, French star, who'll have the lead in Dave's "Joan of Paris," is there, and so are the Nunnally Johnsons and Barrett McCormick. There is little talk of movies and more of house decoration. McCormick tells how his exploitation aid, Terry Turner, once loused up a circus, and it's a good thing to know if you ever get mad at a circus. Terry was battling over a contract with the plate lipped Ubangi women, claimed money was due him. So, one day, he filed an attachment. Not on the whole circus—just on the center poles. A circus can get along without anything else—but if there are no center poles there's no show.

Saturday—Nothing special.

Country Clubs Start Season Early Because of Warm Spring

BY JUDITH CASS.

MEMORIAL day is the traditional date for the summer opening of country clubs, tho most of them are partly opened or prepared for full service a bit earlier. Chicago's delightfully warm and pleasant spring brought members out earlier than usual, so there already has been much activity at clubs about the city.

The Shoreacres club was opened on May 1 and meals have been obtainable daily since then. The club is going to forgo any regular club dances this season, but this does not mean that there won't be plenty of dancing parties there. Mrs. James Otis Hinkley is giving a dinner-dance there tomorrow night for her niece, Mrs. William B. Schrauff of Long Island, N. Y., who is spending two weeks with Mrs. Hinkley. Mr. Schrauff has come for the party. Solomon B. Smith is head of the Shoreacres' entertainment committee, and Mrs. George A. Poole Jr. is in charge of women's events.

The first buffet supper of the season was held early this month at the Indian Hill club, where luncheon and dinner is served daily. The formal opening dance will be held on Thursday night.

Dinner-Dance Saturday at Chicago Golf Club.

The Chicago Golf club in Wheaton resumed full service last Saturday. A formal dinner-dance will be held next Saturday. The Glen View club, open the year around, observes the start of summer on Memorial day as a rule. Its first dance of the season will be held on Thursday night.

The Onwentsia club has been open for luncheons and dinners by reservation since early this month, and the golf and tennis professionals have been on hand for several weeks. The first of the club's weekly buffet dinners will be served on Thursday, June 12. Mrs. Barrett Scudder is chairman of the women's golf committee, assisted by Mrs. Keith Brown, Miss Ethel Johnston, and Mrs. Charles Dennehy. Mrs. C. Daggett Harvey is tennis chairman, assisted by Mrs. James R. Addington, Mrs. George S. Chappell Jr., Mrs. Winston Elting, and Miss Grace Shumway.

The Knollwood's main clubhouse was opened for full service last Saturday, the men's locker building and grill having been opened since early this month. The club's formal opening dance will be held next Saturday.

Starting next Sunday, the Exmoor

Hard Case

SYNOPSIS.

Carol McFee, whose father is about to lose his ranch to Tate Wallace, because of a forged deed, writes to Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw, asking for help. Wallace, blackmailing Sholto because of a murder he knows Sholto committed, is making him testify he saw McFee sign the deed. Will Usher, crook and enemy of Coyle's, proposes to Coyle that they kidnap Sholto and make Wallace pay ransom. Dave agrees only because he feels it will help McFee, but when he does kidnap Sholto and turns him over to Usher, he finds he has been double-crossed and escapes just in time to prevent Usher turning Dave over to the police to get the reward offered for him. McFee is arrested for Sholto's kidnapping and possible murder, but with Dave's aid, he escapes, rescues Sholto from Usher and he and Dave bring Sholto back to the town jail. But just as they reach the jail, Sholto is shot and killed. McFee is arrested for Sholto's murder but Dave escapes. He saw some one on a roof shoot Sholto and feels that it must have been either Sheriff Beal, Deputy Ernie See, Lacey Thornton, McFee's disgruntled ex-partner, or Senator Maitland, McFee's lawyer, as they were the only ones besides himself and McFee who knew they were bringing Sholto to town. Dave has good proof Ernie did not do the killing. With his usual bravado, Dave appears in Ernie's room and tells him about the man on the roof and the persons he feels are the only possible guilty ones. Dave persuades Ernie to help him steal the forged deed and lay a trap for the murderer. Pretending Sholto's signature on the deed is forged, Ernie convinces Sheriff Beal that he should make Wallace show the deed to the McFee ranch to him to make it legal for Wallace to move in. Dave hides in the McFee ranch house waiting for Wallace to take possession.

INSTALMENT XXXVII.

MATCHED SIGNATURES.

Beal drew out his bandanna and wiped his face with it. Ernie looked sleepily at him, and said:

"Cheer up, Harve. It ain't no worse than a toothache."

Beal swore. "What if he won't show the deed?"

"Tell him you'll kick him off, then. You act tough if he does. Act plumb pretty if he does."

Beal said frantically, "Lemme look at that letter of Sholto's again."

Ernie handed it to him, and Beal studied it as if he were trying to memorize it. Then he handed it back, and they got up to meet Wallace and his crew. A sour-faced cook was in the wagon, Marty Cord driving it. Wallace and Will Usher were riding on either side, and the rest of the Three Rivers crew was strung out in the rear.

Beal came out to the tie rail, Ernie loafing behind him. Marty Cord was going to drive the wagon around in the rear, but Wallace stopped him.

Wallace was clean shaven today, wearing a black suit, and his boots were polished. Ernie studied him covertly, trying to get a hint at his temper.

Wallace swung down, grinned and said, "Didn't have any trouble movin' them out, did you, sheriff?"

Beal saw that Wallace was agreeable and he breathed a deep sigh of relief. This didn't look as if there were going to be any argument.

"No trouble. They left a houseful of furniture for you." He cleared his throat and said confidently: "All you got to do to take possession is give me a look at that deed."

"Yeah," Wallace said carelessly. "I got your message. Seems kind of queer, but then you're welcome to look at it again."

"I'm playin' safe," Beal said, with what he hoped was a grim tone. "I don't want McFee claimin' I took your word for the deed. I want to see it."

"Sure, sure. Hand down that iron box, Marty."

Marty Cord reached into the load and lifted down a heavy metal box. Wallace put it on the ground, separated a key from others he carried in his pocket on the end of a chain, then knelt and unlocked the box. Will Usher watched him with apparent indifference as he handed Beal the deed.

Beal unfolded it and Ernie came over and looked over his shoulder. Beal read the deed, turned it over and looked at the signature.

Ernie said suddenly, "That's funny."

"What is?" Wallace asked, suspicion in his voice.

Beal rammed his elbow in Ernie's stomach, but Ernie went on blandly, "I seen Sholto's writin' once. It didn't look like that."

Beal turned on him, his eyes imploring. But Ernie didn't even look at him. He watched Wallace, whose face had settled into hard, deep lines.

He kept his hot gaze on Ernie and said, "You sayin' Sholto's signature is a forgery?"

"I'm tellin' you what I saw," Ernie said easily.

Beal was too scared to say anything. Wallace suddenly turned, and said, "Marty, reach in the barrel where the dishes are. There's a pack of letters on top." He turned to Ernie. "Lily Sholto quit my place so sudden she didn't take her stuff with her. Mrs. Babson sent these letters along."

Marty handed Ernie down a package of letters. "These are from Jim Sholto to his wife," he said meagerly. "Look at the signature."

Beal untied the package, took a letter out, turned it over and compared its signature with the one on the deed. They matched absolutely.

He said viciously to Ernie, "Take a look, hard head!"

Ernie did. Then he said innocently, "Why sure. They're the same."

"Satisfied, sheriff?" Wallace asked dryly.

"I always was," Beal said bitterly. "It's him that wasn't."

"O, I'm satisfied," Ernie said. "Much obliged."

"And I can move in?" Wallace asked Beal.

"Go ahead. The place is yours. Come on, Ernie."

He and Ernie walked over to their horses. Ernie suddenly stopped, snapped his fingers and said, "I forgot my shellbelt." He had taken it off and draped it over a chair back when they were helping load trunks. Whistling, he went back into the house. They heard his whistle fading, then growing stronger. He came out again, strapping on his shellbelt. He and Beal got on their horses, waved to the crew and rode out. As soon as they were out of earshot, Beal said bitterly, "What you got to say for yourself?"

"Nothin'," Ernie said blandly.

"What if those signatures hadn't matched?" Beal said, anger in his voice. "We'd of got in one hell of an argument!"

"That's a fact," Ernie agreed. "They did, tho. I can't figure it out!"

Beal looked at him a long time, and then he shook his head. "Sometimes I dunno," he murmured glumly. "Sometimes I think I'll put a gun in my mouth and pull the trigger. It's a hell of a lot quicker than lettin' a dumb deputy do it, and it ain't half the worry."

Outwardly, Ernie looked injured, and remained silent. Inwardly, he was laughing. He had given Sheriff Beal one of the most uncomfortable 10 minutes of his life. That was just for fun. The other wasn't. Because that deed was at the Bib M now, and somewhere inside the house Dave Coyle said he would be hidden.

Ernie didn't know for sure, but he was willing to bet that Dave was in there.

* * * *

When Beal and Ernie had ridden away, Wallace picked the box up, instructed a rider to drive the wagon around to the rear, told Marty Cord and Usher to follow him, and they went into the house. The cook walked straight thru to the kitchen, but the others paused at the door of the living room and looked around them. Wallace, whose idea of elegance was a saloon with a tile floor, looked at the rugs, the furniture, the piano from St. Louis, the heavy pink glass lamps, and the curtains. He whistled in awe and then made a wry face. Marty Cord wasn't impressed. Will Usher was, altho his face didn't show it. The three of them looked at all the downstairs rooms, then went upstairs to the bedrooms. When they came to Carol's room, Wallace stopped on the threshold and goggled. There was a fluffy counterpane on the bed, the white curtains were starched stiffly, and there was a lingering scent of lavender in the room.

"Well, well," Wallace drawled. He walked over to the bed, picked up the counterpane, looked at it, then ripped it in half and dropped it on the floor. Next he went to the ornate marble topped dresser. Methodically, he went around the room, yanking down the pictures and putting his foot thru them. Then he looked up at Will and Marty, and Marty grinned.

"Get this muck out of here," Wallace said. "It looks like a honkeytonk."

"I wisht it was," Marty said. He grinned slyly. "You got all the fixings, boss. Why don't we move some gals out here?"

Wallace laughed. "You like the smell so good, Marty. You can have the place. Me, I'll take somethin' without the perfume. Tell the boys to take over." He looked again at the room. "Anything they don't like, they can throw out the window."

He caught Will Usher looking at him with something like dismay in his face. Wallace grinned wolfishly. "You don't like it, Dude?"

Will caught himself in time. "I was just wonderin'," Will drawled, grinning, "how we'd get that bed out the window."

Wallace laughed again. This was his hour, and he was in a rare good mood. The Bib M was his, and he set about immediately to pull it down to the level of a cheap hotel lobby. He took McFee's room for himself, the room on a rear corner. It was small, barren of rugs, and a rickety old bed, a heavy dresser and a chair made up the furniture. He sent Will and Marty up to look over the attic and search the rest of the house, and then he remembered he still carried the iron box.

Simple Linen Dress Is Tops for Summer

BY REA SEEGER.

That age of innocence look can be managed by the most worldly soul with a summer street dress of linen. Whether you choose one of the neutral shades of beige or grege, [a carefully mixed half and half of grey and beige] or the stunning dull blacks or even spanking shiny whites, all are made simply. The smooth texture of linen is sufficient, and streamlining by a scheming seamstress is all that is needed.

One piece dresses thus cut and seamed slim down the figure lines, slice inches away from your body lines and when you wear black linen the world is yours for the fun of accenting the costumes accessories. Two piece affairs resembling a suit usually have short sleeves and a trig jacket top effect complete with notched collar, pockets, and details that are always part of a tailored suit jacket.

Real honest to goodness suits have flared skirts and the long sleeved jackets . . . this year there are swankily tailored jackets to rival the masculine models and the softer more flattering dressmaker models, with shirred sections, roll over deep vee collar lines, band trim, and flatly pressed pleats.

But it is in the daytime one-piece dresses that linen really clicks. Summer linen dresses are made with the clever detail usually found on the smart sleek models in crêpe silk or thin wool. Intricate insets, curved shoulder lines, bias cut panels that flare around the lower edge of the skirt, bodices cut with side shirrings that merely add a suggestion of skimpy fullness, huge decorative buttons and pockets all add up to definite linen lure for street and general wear.

One collection features such unusual dresses, as . . . tri-tone vertical panels in blue, red, and pale beige; another of giddy Kelly green with white braid trimmed large pockets, one on each hip; a smartly plaited model of two tone beige checks, the checks less than an inch square; white linen with a row of dollar size tortoise shell buttons down the front and double cut lapels on the bodice.

Church Presents Cash Gift to J. Wesley Jones

As a gesture of appreciation of J. Wesley Jones, who has completed 21 years' service as choir leader for the Metropolitan Community church, 4100 South Park way, the congregation last night presented to him a cash collection contributed at the morning service. Dr. Joseph Evans, pastor of the church, said nearly 1,600 persons were present at the evening session. Jones led the negro chorus at the Chicagoland Music festival last August.

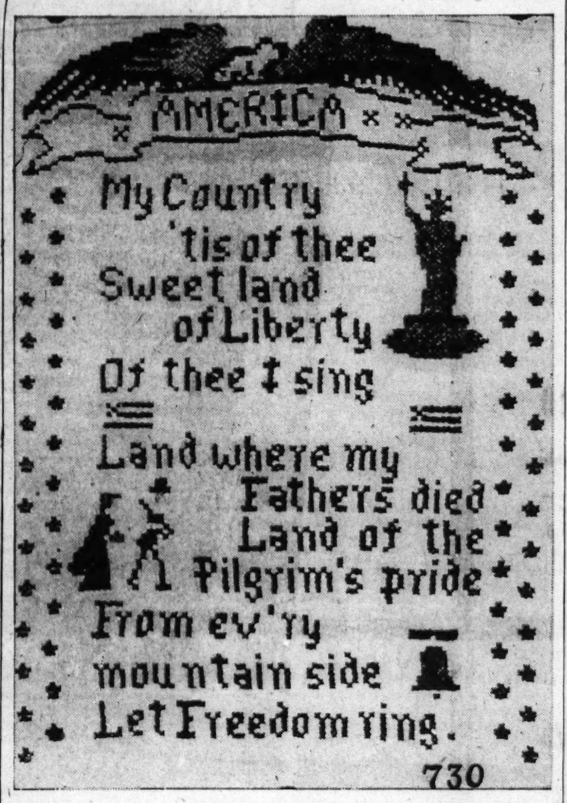
"America" in Cross-Stitch



AMERICA
My Country 'tis of thee Sweet land of Liberty
Of thee I sing
Land where my Fathers died
Land of the Pilgrim's pride
From ev'ry mountain side
Let Freedom ring.

BY NANCY CABOT.

A good looking wall panel, done in cross-stitch, of our beautiful "America" is one bit of needlework having universal appeal, and one which every loyal American will embroider for use in home, school, or clubroom. The hot iron transfer pattern measures 12 by 18 inches, may be stamped on white or natural colored linen and embroidered in choice of colors.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of "America," No. 730, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Universal day—Make plans, decide things, and start them on this one day.

June—For those in a six year the month of June should prove very pleasant. It is a period when one can throw off the current darker thoughts and be cheerful and optimistic. Make new friends, seek out the old, and have lunch or dinner with them, and call them up for a chat. Remember whenever you have the number three, either in your yearly, monthly, or daily chart, that means to express yourself. It doesn't mean, however, to be so talkative or scatter-brained, that you don't do any constructive work. Aim the words you use toward an objective—to make life pleasanter for your friends and neighbors, perhaps, or for those in work using words, to employ them to good advantage.

High geared twentieth century living has aroused a demand for big things wrapped in little packages. We like to do our reading the easy way, to gulp books and magazine articles in condensed form as we ride to work. We're delighted with a raincoat which may be squeezed into a purse-sized ball, no nuisance at all to carry. Vitamin pills have our approval. It's comforting to think that we can go right on eating the old inadequate diet, and just take a pill a day to give us those essential A B C's.

Reflecting on the popularity of such assorted concentrations, I've been wondering if my readers would care for some "evaporated" recipes. Boil 'em down to an idea, I thought, and see if anyone likes 'em.

FRENCH CHEESE SANDWICHES.

Make cheese sandwiches, French toast them, and serve hot with broiled peach halves filled with currant jelly.

BERRY MUFFINS.

Fold a cupful of fresh, frozen, or drained canned berries into cornmeal muffin batter last of all.

STUFFED CLUB STEAKS.

Have thick steaks slit at the market and fill the slits with bread stuffing. Then broil the steaks as usual.

DEVIL'S DELIGHT.

To a baking powder biscuit recipe add ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese, ½ teaspoon curry powder, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard. Make tiny biscuits and serve them hot with salad.

TEASERS.

Roll broiled cocktail sausages in mustard and wrap with thinly rolled pie pastry. Bake in a hot oven and serve piping.

PEACHES IN PORT.

This is just a reminder that fresh, frozen or canned peaches make a grand dessert if they're chilled in port wine.

SAVORY VEAL CHOPS.

Brown the chops, then add equal parts chili sauce and sour cream [¾ cup of each] and cook covered over very low heat until tender. Season with salt and pepper.

SIMPLE FRUIT DESSERT.

Open three cans of fruit at once. [This isn't extravagant. You'll use them all one way or another.] Serve three kinds in a colorful array for one portion—a purple plum, a pear half, a whole golden apricot, for example. Interesting, and good.

CREOLE SUMMER SQUASH.

Tomato sauce seasoned with onion and green pepper is wonderful poured over boiled or steamed halves of Italian squash. Don't peel the squash. Just split it lengthwise.

Community Fund to Hold Annual Session Tomorrow

The annual meeting of the Community Fund of Chicago will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the Palmer House. Several hundred representative men and women, including presidents of the 189 participating charitable and welfare agencies, will attend.

CUBS WIN IN NINTH, 3-2; SOX WHIP TIGERS, 7-3

NICHOLSON AND GEORGE TEAM TO BEAT DERRINGER

Give Root Victory, Split Red Series.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Bill Nicholson waited, hitless, all thru the four game series between the Cubs and the Reds before finding his spot in the ninth inning yesterday to the delight of 18,663 fans in Wrigley field. Then Bill socked a double off Paul Derringer, advanced on Lou Novikoff's perfect sacrifice, and scored on Charley George's single to give the Cubs and Charley Root a 3 to 2 victory.

Nicholson and George were the heroes at the windup, but all the other gents wore laurel in abundance, with especially large wreaths for Root, Novikoff, and Stan Hack.

It's 195th for Root.

Aside from one bad inning, Root, in registering his second victory of the season and his 195th as a Cub, was a superb performer. With one out in the second, Chuck Aleno singled off Root's glove and Ernie Lombardi banged a homer into the center field bleacher for what proved to be the Cincy total for the day. After the Lombardi smash, Harry Craft singled and Eddie Joost doubled, but the big inning ended on two sparkling plays by Hack on grounders by Derringer and Ernie Koy.

Root had runners in scoring position on second or third, in the third, fourth, sixth, and eighth innings, but each time he had what it took to escape, especially errorless support.

Novikoff knocked his second homer of the year to halve the Reds' lead in the second inning. Lou executed four better than average catches in the outfield to keep himself busy between his homer in the second inning and his sacrifice in the triumphant ninth.

Hack, after becoming the big rescuer of Root in the second inning jam, became a batting hero in the third. He tripled to right center with one out and scored tying run on Phil Cavarretta's fly to Koy.

Cubs Save Threats.

The 2 to 2 tie prevailed without many threats from the Cubs. The only Cub hits, in fact, from the time Hack made his triple till Nicholson knocked his ninth inning double, were George's first single with one out in the fourth and a safe bunt by Cavarretta at the start of the sixth. On this latter occasion Cavarretta advanced to second on Dom Dallessandro's sacrifice, and to third on Nicholson's tap to Lonnie Frey. Novikoff then was passed on four pitches, but George struck out after a three and two count.

The happy outcome enabled the Cubs to split the Wrigley field series with the Reds, two games to two. Last season the Cubs won only three games in 11 from the Reds in Chicago. The season series now shows four victories for the Cubs and five for the Reds. The Cubs have won their four in their last six engagements with the Reds, after dropping the first three, 1 to 0, 5 to 0 and 5 to 1.

Pretty Good Stand.

The game yesterday ended a 12 game home stand for the Cubs in which they won seven and lost five. When they returned for the stand they had won only one home game in six, the season opener against the Pirates. During the stay just ended they won one and lost none against Boston, lost three straight to the Giants, won three straight from the Dodgers, and won one from the Phillies before splitting the four game series with the Reds.

In registering his victory yesterday, Root tied his victory total for last year. In 1940 Charley won two and lost three.

The Cubs will be in St. Louis this afternoon for a three game series with the league leading Cardinals. In today's game Lefty Vern Olsen will start against Lefty Clyde Shoun. The series will include the Cubs' first night game—tomorrow night.

The Cubs will play in six cities before returning to Wrigley field on June 14. Cincinnati is the only National league city they will miss on the jaunt, their second eastern voyage of the season.

Bon Voyage!

The honor pupils, best of the thousands who attended the free golf school sponsored by The Tribune and conducted by members of the Illinois section of the PGA, are here presented. They were picked as the outstanding novice golfers from the 32 finalists who met in graduation exercises in Jackson park yesterday. Left to right: Danny Downs, 8100 South Shore drive; Ruth Keigher, 7713 South Green street; Thelma Gunderson, 6049 North Talman avenue, and George Czerniak, 4025 South Richmond street.

STUDENTS CUM LAUDE PICKED IN GOLF SCHOOL

Weather Man Smiles on Graduation Exercises.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Thelma Gunderson, Ruth Keigher, George Czerniak, and a red headed, freckle faced party named Daniel Downs yesterday were named the most apt pupils in the graduation exercises of the ninth annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE at the Jackson park course. This was the quartet chosen by the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association, who have made up the faculty of this oldest and largest system of group instruction since its inception in 1933.

The 1941 finals probably were the most thrilling in the history of the school from a competitive standpoint, for in only one division—the girls'—was there a unanimous decision by the five professionals who made up the jury. In all three other divisions—men's, women's, and boys'—an elimination process was necessary to determine the final winner. And the girls' victor, Miss Keigher, was not decided until after more than 10 minutes of deliberation by the judges.

All Are Novices.

While Matt Matteson of Ridge, secretary of the Illinois PGA, acted as master of ceremonies from a specially built platform equipped with loud speakers, his five colleagues went thru the classes, examining each division collectively and then individually until they had determined the student with what they rated the best swing on the basis of the four lessons given during the school. All of the four main winners are real novices, bearing out the school's new policy of choosing only genuine beginners for the chief prizes, which were four golf bags and four sets of clubs.

The five members who formed the finishing jury were Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, national PGA president; Harry Kinnell of Edgewood Valley, who was head teacher during the Marquette park classes; Lew Waldron, conductor of the lessons on the Diversey course; Jack White of the Green Diamond Range, a regular professor at Jackson park, and Packey Walsh, Marquette park's home professional.

Wrist Action Gains Edge.

The day was brought to a perfect climax when all except two of the eight finalists in the men's class were eliminated. This pair consisted of George Czerniak, 4205 South Richmond street, and Joe Roubal, 1508 Larrabee street. It took the professionals nearly 10 minutes to decide Czerniak the winner, and then only after Tom Walsh explained that he had gained the edge over Roubal because of slightly better wrist action at the top of the backswing and a greater hip turn than that shown by Roubal. Czerniak is a freshman at Woodrow Wilson Junior college. He is 19 years old. Czerniak attributed his success to shotmaking demonstrations given by Al Sargent of Hinsdale in the Marquette park lessons, while Roubal gave credit for his progress to Jerry Glynn of Knollwood and Dick Dickerson of Mill Road Farm in the Diversey sessions.

Danny Has a Following.

Most popular winner of the finals was the aforesaid Daniel Downs. Danny, who stands shoulder high to a sawed off niblick, was 10 years old last Wednesday. His father brought him to the Jackson park lessons, first of his life, and Daniel, according to Matt Matteson, was on the verge of falling asleep during the fourth lesson last Thursday night, but stayed up past his bedtime to become the south side park's boy candidate in the finals. This morning Daniel should be a sensation at St. Bride's school, where he is a fourth grade pupil.

Winner of the women's prize was Miss Gunderson, a 32 year old switchboard operator who resides at 6049 North Talman avenue, and who praised the work of Jock Anderson, Techny Fields' veteran professional, for her triumph. Miss Keigher, a comely 16 year old junior at Calumet High school, who lives at 7713 South Green street, attributed her success to Charley Blasgen, Tom Walsh's assistant at Westgate Valley.

Little House.

There's a little house on a quiet street,
With shutters of green and curtains so neat.
It's a house where the door stands open wide,
With a welcome for all who come inside.
The cobblestone path that leads to the door,
Is bordered with flowers, of kinds a score.
And under the roof, among the eaves,
You can hear the song of whispering leaves.
This quaint little house was built from dreams,
With happiness woven among its beams.

If Hostak Loses, It Won't Be for Lack of Condition

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Al Hostak, challenger for Tony Zale's middleweight championship in the 15 round fight Wednesday night in the Stadium, is in the best condition of his career. He proved this yesterday in the Catholic Youth organization gymnasium with 11 rounds of work, five of them in the ring.

Hostak didn't slow up thruout the drill and he didn't pause for a deep breath. Hostak's condition was occasion for enthusiastic predictions by Eddie Marino, his manager, and Nate Druxman, Seattle fight promoter, who expects to match Hostak against Billy Soose this summer.

Neither Marino nor Druxman believe Zale will have a chance. That Hostak has been beaten twice by the champion is beside the point to them. They have convinced themselves that Hostak had legitimate excuses for these defeats. They firmly believe in Hostak because he is ready for a fast pace over 15 rounds.

Hostak Just Works.

Hostak has nothing to say. He avoids conversation with strangers in the gymnasium, goes thru his drills methodically, and doesn't wish to see Zale until the night of the championship match. Indeed, Hostak knows he must prove his own case. He has been accused of deliberately coasting for five rounds against Zale in the first bout here after he had fractured his left hand. That cost him the decision. Hostak was stopped in 13 rounds in the second match of the series.

Hostak's three rounds against Isaiah Wells, excellent CYO fighter, easily was his best drill since he arrived here. Wells gave and received fearlessly and Hostak's jolting rights had Isaiah groggy in the second round. Marino yelled to the boxers to ease up. Wells took Marino's advice, unfortunately, but Hostak hammered him into the ropes.

Wells Is Convinced, Too.

"Hostak was just shufflin' along," Wells said afterward. "Man, how he can hit. I sure am picking him to win."

Hiner Thomas followed with two rounds against Hostak in which Al seemed purposely working for speed and on defense. Afterward, with only one minute rest between rounds, Hostak worked three minutes on the punching bag, moved to the heavy bag, skipped the rope, and pulled the weights before shadow boxing.

Among those watching, in addition to Paddy Kane and Dick Fitzpatrick of the CYO boxing staff, were Benny Yanger, boxing coach of the Chicago Athletic association, and Bat Nelson, one time lightweight champion. Consensus was that Hostak will win if he can move forward to get set for his punches.

Zale Takes Rest.

"If Zale can keep on top of Hostak," Kane added, "and force Al to fight as he wants him to fight, then Hostak may have trouble. Both can hit hard and Zale has the confidence of his knockout victory over the challenger."

Zale took a vacation from work yesterday, but will conclude his ring drills this afternoon in Trafton's gymnasium. Hostak also will finish hard work today at the CYO.

CONN BATTLES KNOX TONIGHT IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25 (AP).—Billy Conn will fight Buddy Knox of Dayton, O., for 15 rounds or less tomorrow night in Forbes field.

Conn is a heavy favorite, but even his strongest supporters admit he must beat Knox decisively to still the clamorings of Buddy Baer fans who claim Baer should be substituted for Billy in the June 18 title shot at Joe Louis in New York. Louis will see the bout here.

Two other 10 round heavyweight matches support the Conn bout. These pit Lee Savold of Des Moines, Ia., against Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh Negro, and Pat Comiskey, Jersey City Irishman, against James J. Johnson, New York Negro.

The fight tops a red-letter day for boxing in Pittsburgh. Earlier in the day Promoter Mike Jacobs will preside as Sammy Angott, National Boxing association lightweight champion signs for a 15 round title match against Lew Jenkins, recognized as lightweight boss in New York.

SOUTH SIDERS SCORE 7 RUNS IN SEVENTH INNING

Lee's Victory Winds Up Long Trip.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—The White Sox, who for quite a stretch had been indifferent to the value of runs, awoke with a start today to put over a deal which concluded their season's first long jaunt successfully. Helpless before Hal Newhouser, the kid southpaw, for six innings, the Chicagoans went to work in the seventh and built up a cluster of seven runs. This proved amply sufficient to skin the champion Tigers, 7 to 3, before 20,520 paid customers.

Thornton [Lefty] Lee had the pleasure of being in on the ninth Sox victory in fourteen battles waged en route, but his fun was delayed until that profitable seventh inning turned up. Up to then he had seen his associates do nothing except get a man to base with none out and leave the fellow stranded. Lee's displeasure during this stretch was intensified by the fact that he had yielded two runs, one of them Rudy York's ninth homer. But once in the lead Lee made certain of his fifth victory by giving up only one more run, a homer by Frank Croucher in the ninth.

Eleven Sox Bat in Seventh.

The seventh, which ended a run drought at 26 innings, most of which was due to two successive shutouts here, was such a dizzy session that 11 batters had a chance to do their stuff. Three Tiger pitchers also were involved, Newhouser giving way to Alton Benton after the panic was on and Tommy Bridges coming along when it began to look as if the riot never would be quelled.

The seventh began with a walk by Julius Solters, a single by Myril Hoag, and a pass to Mike Tresh. Lee sent his second single thru short, scoring Solters and Hoag. Newhouser was promptly excused from service.

Benton came in to greet Bill Knickerbocker who bunted. When Higgins fumbled the ball the bases were reloaded with nobody retired. A wild pitch let Tresh score and also helped Appling to a pass which filled the bases for the third time. Kuhel scored them all with his double into the left field corner. Bridges then halted the uprising, but not until after Kuhel had scored the seventh run on an infield out.

Appling's Triple Wasted.

The Sox began feinting at Newhouser at the very outset. Luke Appling tripled with one out but Kuhel winked at a third strike and Taft Wright tapped to York. Dario Lodigiani led off in the second with a single and nothing happened.

York's homer was pumped into the left field seats in the home half, but this setback didn't encourage the Sox to change their tactics. Lee's first single put another on with none out in the third and with one out Appling walked. All that happened this time was Kuhel's double play roller to Croucher. Wright's single which opened the fourth also went to waste.

The Sox had another runner on with none out in the fifth and went out in order in the sixth.

After getting himself into a mixup in the fourth Lee almost got away undamaged. A fluke single proved the difference between nothing and the Tigers' second run. Gehringer led off with a safe tap to right. Rip Radcliff fanned and York singled. The bases were filled on a pass to Bruce Campbell and after Higgins had flied to Julius Solters in short left, Birdie Tebbetts poked a harmless looking grounder at Lee but the ball squirmed off his glove for a hit, Gehringer scoring. Croucher then fanned and there was no more Detroit scoring until Croucher's homer in the ninth.

VOICE OF TRACKS EXPLAINS HOW TO SPOT YOUR HORSE

Ashley Has Spotted All in Field of 23!

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago racing fans have grown accustomed to a voice which tells them just what their horses are doing at various stages of the swing around Lincoln Fields, Arlington Park, and all the other tracks of the Chicago area. The words "Oatmuncher moving up on the outside and taking the lead" strike up jubilation in some and despair in others.

This same voice has informed the Kentucky Derby throngs just what Johnstown and Gallahadion and Whirlaway have been up to on the charge around the running strip at Churchill Downs. It belongs to a lean, sharp eyed observer named Frank Ashley. It may be raining so hard that the jockeys' colors are plastered almost indistinguishably with mud or it may be so late on some autumn afternoon that the horses are no more than shadows going down the backstretch —but this same steady voice comes thru with a reliable call.

23 Horses At Once!

Frank says some of the toughest moments of his career occurred on an afternoon in 1935 when they ran 23 horses at him in the Prairie State stakes at Washington Park—and that included seven pairs of entries, in which each horse carried the identical colors of his stablemate with the exception, of course, of the jockey's cap.

The average race fan, who has a hard enough time figuring out which horse is his at a range of 30 yards, often wonders how Frank keeps track of every member of a large field. Some ask if he does it by their numbers, but the answer is no.

In the course of any one meeting, Ashley has about 900 horses to identify from day to day. He gets to recognize some of them as instinctively as he knows the members of his own family, but in other cases he has to make a systematic observation of all details to keep them straight. He looks at the jockey's colors, at the color and general appearance of the horse, at the accessories such as blinkers and bandages. In some cases the riders themselves are unmistakable at a distance because of their style of handling their mounts, a notable example being Johnny Adams.

It's a Job.

Frank occasionally is irritated by the names owners pick for their horses. When he gets one like Pajas, he doesn't know whether to go for the pure Castillian Spanish or to let the fans have it in English.

There was one horse called Some One Else which nearly ruined his reputation for accuracy. Whenever this beast began gaining on the pacesetter in the stretch, Frank would have to say: "Clodhopper still leading by half a length. Some One Else moving up along the rail."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—HONORABLE QUIZKY

You Can Find Fish in Lakes Near Chicago

BY BOB BECKER.

Memorial day week-end will see an all out attack against the fish, for this holiday always sends thousands of outdoor fans armed with tackle into the north country for muskies, wall-eyes, crappies, trout, and northern pike. Here are some tips on fishing and vacation areas fairly close to Chicago. The lakes mentioned are a pretty good bet for some fun with fish.

If a fisherman can't take the time to travel 300 miles or more to northern Wisconsin, he should try Koshkonong, Ripley, Kegonsa, Waubesa and other lakes adjacent to Chicago. Koshkonong is approximately 110 miles from Chicago. Seven miles long and four miles wide, it offers pickerel [northern pike], wall-eyes, panfish and some bass. The state also has stocked it with muskies. Koshkonong is near the towns of Edgerton and Fort Atkinson.

Offers a Good Bet.

Lake Ripley, about 120 miles from Chicago, is an attractive little body of water, about a mile long and half mile wide, near Cambridge. When we were in Wisconsin a short time ago an angler told us this lake is a good bet for wall-eyes and northern pike or pickerel, some of which grow to a large size. Also has panfish and some bass. The Wisconsin bass season does not open until late in June.

Kegonsa and Waubesa, not far from Stoughton and below Madison, have been heavily stocked by the state in recent years and the results have been evident in better fishing. Kegonsa is about 120 miles from Chicago. It's a good sized lake, about five miles long and two and one-half miles wide. There are white bass in the lake [season is open], wall-eyes and panfish.

Try Weedy Puckaway.

From 150 to 185 miles from Chicago there are a number of fishing places including Crystal lake [two miles from Elkhart lake] with panfish and wall-eyes, Lake Winnebago [Oshkosh], Butte des Mortes and Poygan in the Wolf river drainage system, Green lake [13 miles long and three miles wide] and Lake Puckaway.

WILLMAN, TWO OTHERS QUALIFY AT INDIANAPOLIS

Two Frenchmen to Take Trial Spins Tomorrow.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25 (AP).—Tony Willman of Milwaukee, Sam Hanks of Alhambra, Cal., and Overton Phillips of Beverly Hills, Cal., qualified their cars today for the 29th annual 500 mile race, leaving only five places to be filled in the starting field.

Twenty-eight speedsters now have gone 10 miles at the required 115 miles an hour or faster to win positions among the 33 to take part in the race Friday.

Willman Makes It 2d Time.

Willman, an Indianapolis motor speedway veteran, had the best speed today, driving 123.920 miles an hour to qualify on his second attempt. On the first run he stopped at the end of one lap because of motor trouble. Hanks qualified at 118.211 miles an hour. Phillips also needed two trials to qualify. He made it at 116.298. His pace was so slow he was regarded in danger of losing the right to start. If more than 33 cars should qualify, the slowest automatically will be eliminated.

A check this afternoon showed seven or eight more cars might attempt to qualify. Additional trials will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Frenchmen Try Tomorrow.

Rene Lebegue and Jean Trevoux, the two French entrants, made their first appearance on the track this afternoon in the French built Talbots they brought to this country.

Trevoux, who is here for the first time, ran about half of the driving test required of all newcomers at the speedway. He plans to complete his test tomorrow.

ELLIOTT, PIRATE HIT BY PITCHED BALL, IMPROVES

St. Louis, Mo., May 25 (AP).—The condition of Outfielder Bob Elliott of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who suffered a brain concussion when hit by a pitched ball yesterday, was reported improved today. Dr. Robert F. Hyland said Elliott would have to remain in the hospital another day or two.

Elliott was struck in the head by one of Rookie Sam Nahem's pitches as he was batting in the eighth inning of the Cardinal-Pirates game.

Vikings Beat Sparta, 2-1, in Peel Cup Play

BY OFFSIDE.

The Vikings, who won the International league Major Division championship last week, defeated the Sparta soccer team, 2 to 1, yesterday in the Sparta stadium in the second round of the State Peel cup competition. It was the first time the Vikings have ever beaten Spartas.

The Vikings rushed into a two goal lead in the first 11 minutes. Roscoe Anderson scored after five minutes. Nels Brostrom made it two up six minutes later. Sparta's goal resulted from a penalty against Weck Henny for tripping, Baba Vicek making the shot.

The Vikings meet the Linneas for the right to meet the American Eagles in the finals. Score:

104 Bid Today for 12 Chicago Places in Open

Seventy-one professionals and 33 amateurs today will fire 36 holes of golf shots at the No. 1 and No. 3 courses of the Medinah Country club in the Chicago district qualifying round for the National Open tournament to be held June 5, 6, and 7 at the Colonial club in Fort Worth, Tex. The Chicago entry of 104 players, second only to Dallas in the number of seekers after places, has been allotted 12 places in the main event at Fort Worth.

Simultaneously, in 26 other centers thruout the country, the nation's best swingers will be trying to earn a rôle in the national cast. The total this year is 1,052. Of these 33 are exempt from today's local trials by reason of having finished in the first 30 and ties in last year's meet in Cleveland. Eight more gain a pass as former champions who didn't make the first 30 in Cleveland, and Bob Byrnes, the home pro at Colonial, also is exempt.

Tee Off in Threesomes.

The Chicago qualifying rounds last year produced the ultimate winner of the title in Lawson Little, who led the trial field at Olympia Fields with 134. Today's field at Medinah includes enough important names to predict that out of it may well come a new champion. The field will be divided, half playing the No. 1 course in the morning and No. 3 in the afternoon, while the other half will reverse the procedure.

It's difficult to pick an outstanding trio for the galleries to follow, but just for a starter there is the one which will leave the first tee of the No. 1 course at 9:10 a. m. and start out on No. 3 at 1:40 p. m. It includes Harry Cooper of Northmoor, twice a runner-up for the championship; Tommy Wright of Longwood, Dyer, Ind., and George Victor of Glen View, sensation of the 1940 Western Amateur tournament.

Another All-Star Threesome.

Another all-star threesome playing the No. 1 and No. 3 courses in that order consists of Denny Shute of Chicago, former British Open and National PGA champion; Ernie Harrison of Chicago, Illinois PGA titleholder, and Johnny Krutilla, Burnham Woods amateur star. They play at 9:24 a. m. and 1:54 p. m.

MOLINE WOMAN TAKES LEAD IN BOWLING MEET

Los Angeles, Cal., May 25 (AP).—Three women from Moline, Ill., Chicago, and Hammond, Ind., caused a major turnover today in the singles standings of the Women's International Bowling congress.

Mrs. Agnes Campbell, 30 year old Moline housewife, took the singles lead with 634 in rolling games of 231, 214, and 189, displacing Catherine Siegel of Kansas City, whose 628 dropped her to second. Dorothy Miller of Chicago took over third place with 625 on games of 247, 215, and 193. Mabel Batterman of Hammond rolled into fourth position with 161—236—225 for 622.

Meanwhile a Cincinnati team, Kathman's Goodyear Shoe Repair, scored 917, 865, and 826 for 2,608 and the lead, a single pin more than the previous leader, Olympic Recreation of Detroit. The defending champions, Logan Square Buicks of Chicago, scored only 2,443 on games of 818, 811, and 814.

Wilman, Varipapa Open Bowling Match Tonight

A 40 game bowling match between Andy Varipapa of Brooklyn and Joe Wilman of Chicago will open tonight in the Cole Lenzi Recreation on Route 66 just south of La Grange. They will bowl 10 games tonight and bowl a like number tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Chicago and Hyde Park Win in Cricket Matches

Chicago defeated South Park, 43 to 11, and Hyde Park won from Lake Shore, 54 to 43, in Illinois Cricket league games yesterday in Washington park. The Oak Park-Milwaukee and Lake Forest-Washington games were postponed.

CARDINALS LOSE STAR ROOKIE, BUT WIN TWO GAMES

Crespi Breaks Finger as Pirates Fall, 6-4, 4-3.

St. Louis, Mo., May 25 (AP).—The Cardinals lost another rookie star to the injury list today but went on to take a double header from Pittsburgh, 6 to 4 and 4 to 3, and sweep a four game series with the Pirates.

Frank Crespi, young second baseman whose sensational play has highlighted the Cardinals' present home stand, suffered a fractured finger attempting to stop a hot grounder off the bat of Lee Handley in the first game and probably will be out at least two weeks. Steve Mesner, who replaced him in the batting order, slammed out a double with the bases loaded in the eighth inning to drive in the winning run and two to spare.

FELLER FANS 13 BROWNS TO GAIN 9TH VICTORY, 6-0

Cleveland, O., May 25 (AP).—Bob Feller pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Browns today, getting 13 strikeouts. That made it No. 9 for Feller, his second straight shutout, five in a row for the Indians, and a clean sweep of the three game series with St. Louis.

The 20,000 fans also saw Jeff Heath get a triple, a single, and his ninth homer of the season in four trips, becoming the first batter ever to loft a ball into the upper decks of the stadium.

Feller gave up seven hits, but his fast one was working overtime and he allowed only two passes.

ATHLETICS, 7; SENATORS, 3.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25 (AP).—The Athletics knocked Dutch Leonard off the mound with a five run rally in the eighth inning today and scored a 7 to 3 victory for a sweep of the three game series with the Washington Senators before 12,531.

One of the season's most unusual plays came in the seventh when Wally Moses flied out, then returned to the plate for another turn. It was explained that Moses had called for time out, but Leonard pitched anyhow. The A's outfielder then singled to score the tying run. Score:

Nine Old Men Nearly Win a Ball Game, 20-19

With the bases loaded in the last of the ninth and two out, a lucky hit, over the left fielder's head, gave the W-G-N softball team a 20 to 19 victory yesterday morning in Lake Shore park over the Tribune Sports department nine. Bob [Line Drive] Elson, W-G-N captain and pitcher, was knocked out of the box in the sixth inning when James Segreti got two hits to match his previous errors. Elson refused to quit, however, and finished the game as pitcher. It was his ball.

Wood Defeats Jennings in Pro Net Meet

Charles Wood of New York City defeated George Jennings of Ravinia, Ill., in the national professional tennis tournament at the Chicago Town and Tennis club yesterday. The match was the most exciting of the tourney to date, with Wood finally vanquishing the clever southpaw in five sets, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

Wood's drop shots were too much for the aggressive Jennings. The latter's forte was a strong cut and slash game.

John Nogrady of Montclair, N. J., advanced to the second round by eliminating George Gaudet of Evanston Country club, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2. The former St. John's university captain overpowered the Evanston pro from the first serve.

Lloyd Budge, brother of Donald, lost his first round match to Dan Watson of Chevy Chase, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1. Joe Whalen, Coral Gables, Fla., former professional singles champion, showed championship form in defeating Loring Fiske of Glencoe, 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

Vincent Richards of Bronxville, N. Y., eliminated Paul Martin of Detroit, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-0. Richards, eight times pro champion and 15 pounds lighter than when he appeared here last September, looms as one of the strong contenders off his showing in yesterday's match.

First round singles results:

John Nogrady, Montclair, N. J., defeated George Gaudet, Evanston, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

'Day by Day on the Farm' by Gail Compton

Corn Pops Up in Fields

May 25, 1941.

THE field corn at the Fox river farm is popping out of the ground almost as fast as it is being planted. The fields look like green tufted quilts, and the bright color of the neatly spaced plants stands out against the black soil.

There are only 85 acres left to be planted in corn. The planters already have clicked over 287 acres, and the big tractors are working until late at night to fit the remaining ground for seed. The corn on the early planted fields already has been cultivated at least once.

The ground has formed a thick crust as a result of hard, beating rains and hot sun, making it difficult for the young corn plants to push their way to the surface. The farm manager has used a rotary hoe on the fields to break the crust and is following this with regular cultivators to keep the ground friable. The corn might be able to get thru the hard soil by itself, but to do so the plants would be forced to expend too much energy and would be slowed down.

Pigs Vary in Color.

The Hampshire sows are out on pasture with their new litters. A first cross Berkshire boar is the daddy of the new pigs. Evidently the old fellow had something else beside just Berkshire blood, for his children are all colors of the rainbow.

Some of the pigs show red in their coats; some are red, white, and black, and there is one little porker who has a snow white body and two black ears. When he bounces thru the high alfalfa he looks like a rabbit.

The farm manager is not concerned over his polygenetic pigs, for experience has taught him that an exceptionally good market pig results from a hybrid cross. The crossed pigs have all the hybrid vigor of their parents, illustrating the same principle found in hybrid seed corn.

Nineteen Fat Cattle Sold.

Nineteen of the fat cattle in the feed lot have been shipped. They were sold at the stockyards for $10.50 a hundred. The load averaged 1,150 pounds each. There still are 40 head of the heavy cattle left at the farm, and the farm manager plans to wait a while longer before marketing them. He believes the beef market is not right for his type of steers at this time and is hoping for a better turn in prices.

The 19 head sold were purchased a year ago and weighed around 500 pounds a head. They were roughed thru the summer on bluegrass pasture and went on full feed in the winter.

The farm manager would like to buy some young feeder steers to replace the heavy ones, but he has found the feeder market exceptionally high. Altho the farm has plenty of pasture and hay for a load of young cattle, the market is asking around 12 cents a pound for good calves. The manager believes feeders purchased at this price would entail such a large investment that his feeding margin would be too narrow to be profitable.

Clinnin, commander of the Illinois militia, spoke. Hotel Sherman post of the American Legion held memorial services for its war dead in Westlawn cemetery.

ALEX STRAKOSCH, FILM ACTOR, DIES IN BRITISH RAID

LONDON, May 25 (AP).—The authoritative British Press association today confirmed reports that Alexander Strakosch, former Hollywood movie actor and son of the former Viennese actress Leopoldine Konstantin, was killed in an air raid some time ago.

Strakosch, the association said, was extradited to England from Hollywood last year in connection with an alleged $1,000,000 swindle but was acquitted last October. He was charged with having been an associate of a Stanley Grove Spiro in allegedly fraudulent operations in 1935. Spiro, in 1938, was given an eight year prison term.

Strakosch's mother is in Hollywood.

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcer Pains

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcer pains caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little and sold under an absolute guarantee that it must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Walgreen, Stineway, Service, Fay and drug stores everywhere.

PEDESTRIAN, 60, FATALLY HURT AS CAR HITS HIM

Edward Thornton, 60 years old 3413 Justine street, was injured fatally yesterday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 3402 South Ashland avenue. Thomas Carroll, 6359 South Hermitage avenue, the driver, told police that Thornton stepped in front of his car. He was held for the inquest.

Two persons were killed and two others injured seriously in a collision of two cars on U. S. highway 20, five miles east of Gary. The victims were Glenn V. Killingbeck, 22, of route 2, Michigan City, and Louis W. Albright, 25, of 126 De Wolf street, Michigan City, occupants of one of the cars. Robert G. Jones, 26, of 544 Monroe street, Gary, and Miss Jean Mayne, 21, of 1601 West 5th street, Gary, who were in the other car, are in a serious condition in the Methodist hospital in Gary.

Mrs. Sarah Reed, 71, of 8000 Langley avenue, died in Mercy hospital last night of injuries received May 2 when her automobile struck a light post at 15th street and the Outer drive. Police who questioned Mrs. Reed after the accident learned that she had lost control of the car when she turned to talk to a companion.

10½ COUPLES DON WEDDING FINERY AT 10 YEAR PARTY

How you will appear in your wedding clothes 10 years after was demonstrated last night by 10½ couples who celebrated their 10th wedding anniversaries at a party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mann, 1241 Maple avenue, Wilmette. [A woman guest whose husband was unable to attend was the ½ couple.]

The guests wore their wedding clothes, which gave the appearance of a tight squeeze in several cases. The odor of moth balls also was noticeable. The "brides" helped cut a wedding cake three feet in diameter and the couples went thru a mock group wedding ceremony. Refreshments were served in tin plates and cups, in recognition of their tin anniversaries. Altho the Manns and their guests all have been married 10 years, the date was not the exact anniversary of any of the couples.

VICTIM OF STREET CAR DIES.

Walter Bielech, 28 years old, 2119 Chicago avenue, a laborer, died last night in County hospital of injuries suffered Friday when he was struck by a street car at Damen avenue and Madison street. Bielech was to have reported to an army induction center Saturday.

CRACK CHICAGO TRAIN STRIKES AUTO; 9 KILLED

Upper Sandusky, O., May 25 [Special].—Nine persons, residents of Saginaw, Mich., and Hamtramck, Mich., were killed here this morning when the automobile in which they were riding was demolished on a downtown crossing by the Pennsylvania railroad's de luxe coach train, the Trail Blazer, westbound. Four of the victims were children.

SWEDISH GROUPS PAY TRIBUTE TO CARL VON LINNE

An estimated 7,000 Swedish-Americans gathered in Lincoln park yesterday to honor the memory of Carl von Linné, the 18th century Swedish pioneer in botany. They heard a musical program at the foot of his statue, which is to be moved soon because the widening of Fullerton avenue has brought heavy traffic within a few feet of the monument.

Among the speakers was Carl H. Lundquist, assistant corporation counsel, who was present at the unveiling of the statue in 1891, Youth organizations participating were the Independent Order of Svithiod, the Independent Order of Vikings, and the Vasa Order of America.

Choral organizations taking part in the program included the Swedish Glee club, the Chicago Swedish Male chorus, the Svithiod Singing club, and choruses from Rockford, Waukegan, and the Fox river valley.

BOAT CAPSIZES IN LAKE; FEAR ONE IS DROWNED

Roy Nord, 32 years old, a cleaning company driver, was believed to have drowned yesterday when he failed to reach shore after trying to swim from a capsized boat a mile out in the lake off Evanston. He lived at 201 Burnham place, Evanston, with his wife and a son.

Nord went for a cruise with Frank Eton, 25, of 3853 North Bernard street, an engineer, in the latter's outboard motorboat. The boat overturned and the two clung to it. After 30 minutes Nord started to swim to shore for help. He disappeared and apparently did not reach shore.

Eton was rescued two hours later by the yacht Whim, owned by Edward Morris, 209 Lake Shore drive, a produce merchant. Chief Boatswain's Mate John Kinnunen and a crew from the Wilmette coast guard station made a futile search for Nord.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

KNUDSEN WILL ADDRESS ARMS RALLY TONIGHT

Speech to Be Climax of Business Clinic.

William S. Knudsen, co-director of the Office of Production Management, will address a preparedness rally of more than 2,000 business and industrial executives tonight in the Grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. The session is sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the National Association of Manufacturers. Delegates to the convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, meeting here today, also will attend the rally.

The program will be the climax of a defense clinic to be held in the Stevens today by the manufacturers' groups.

The executive committee of the national association in a report issued last night warned that all-out government price fixing would place consumers, employers, and employés alike in an economic straitjacket.

Warns It Would Slow Work.

Prices of goods cannot be fixed or controled without also freezing wages, interest rates, and rents, the committee declared in a report to the association's board of directors. Such a step, the committee said, would be inconsistent with a free economy and the entire American system, and would result in an inflexibility which would slow down production.

If the administration freezes prices of goods, and as a result, wages, rents, and interest rates, supervisory controls by government would result, the report asserted. Government control, it warned, would be cumbersome and costly and would create vast confusion and uncertainty.

"Experience has shown that price regulation often influences business life and work in quite other ways or directions than were intended by such regulation," the committee declared.

"However, if the government should find that there are unfair and harmful price increases in a certain industry producing products vital to the national defense program and that the solution requires the fixing of maximum prices, then such controls should be confined to these and related products."

Why Wages Would Be Frozen.

The committee asserted that price fixing of goods necessarily would freeze the wages of employés because wages amount to more than 32 per cent of the cost of manufacture.

Data for the report were gathered by Walter D. Fuller, president of the association and head of the Curtis Publishing company, and his staff, who toured the United States making first hand observations of the accelerated preparedness program.

The report condemned "any use of the national defense period to secure excessive private gains, whether in the form of profits or wages."

During a preparedness or war period, price or wage advances not justified by real costs are not in the long run interests of the public, the report said. Excessive price rises or excessive wage advances, it continued, would precipitate an inflationary spiral which would be as harmful economically to the entire nation as an inflation caused by money and credit policies of the government.

Urge Flexible System.

"Efficiency and speed in production and the delivery of goods will best be accomplished by such independence and flexibility of individual prices as will permit making particular price, wage, and production adjustments demanded by new or increased production of certain commodities, the shifting of production from nondefense to defense items, the use of high cost facilities, increases in raw material costs, and additional labor costs," the committee said.

"To prevent uneconomic price increase, industries should use great caution in creating unnecessary inventories of raw materials, and the best way to accomplish this is for government and industry to avoid panicky forward buying."

AGREE TO TRIM FARM PAYMENTS TO AID LOAN BILL

Washington, D. C., May 25 [Special].—In a deal with President Roosevelt, congressional farm leaders have agreed to trim the fund for direct parity payments to farmers from $450,000,000 to $212,000,000 in the uncompleted agriculture department appropriation bill, it was learned today. The President, in turn, will sign the farm loan bill which would give producers of wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, and rice government loans up to 85 per cent of parity prices, it was said.

RITTER DENTAL.

Some dentists in our office building are forming a pool of several thousand dollars to buy a diversified list of stocks. One of the shares they are considering is Ritter Dental on the New York board. I have been delegated to get some information about the company's business. —J. F.

Answer: The Ritter Dental Manufacturing Company, Inc., New York City, world's leading maker of dental office and laboratory equipment, has devoted an increasing proportion of its productive capacity to the manufacture of aircraft parts in the last year.

Income from work on aircraft contracts has boosted the company's profits markedly. In the first 1941 quarter, net income increased to $110,657, equal to 57 cents a common share after preferred dividends. Net income in the corresponding quarter of 1940 was $21,117. Earnings in the last five years follow:

	Net income.	†Earned per com. share.	Dividends per com.
1936	$418,363	$1.52	$0.75
1937	278,772	0.69	1.00
1938	*172,550	*1.81	....
1939	65,284	*0.23	....
1940	160,688	0.41	....

*Loss. †After provision for preferred shares.

Despite the improvement in earnings, the company has not resumed payment of common dividends, the last of which was disbursed in 1937. More profitable operations in 1940 enabled the company to clear up arrears and resume regular payments on the preferred stock. There are outstanding 20,000 shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value and 149,000 shares of no par common stock.

COLONIAL ALLOYS.

I desire to learn full particulars regarding the organization and financial setup of the Colonial Alloys company and associated companies, including the Base Products company and the Colonial Stove company. —C. C.

Answer: The Colonial Alloys company, Philadelphia, is owned privately by a partnership. The business has been in the same family for more than 91 years. The company does not make public its financial statements.

Colonial Alloys manufactures a stainless, light weight metal in tubes, sheets, strips, plates and other forms for use in the railroad, chemical, building and other industries.

MILLION DOLLAR SHIP TO OPERATE NEXT SATURDAY

The new million dollar streamlined luxury liner, S. S. Milwaukee Clipper, which will carry passengers and tourist automobiles on a regular daily schedule between Milwaukee and Muskegon, Mich., will make its maiden voyage next Saturday.

Chicagoans will have an opportunity to inspect the ship next Monday. It will dock in the Georgian Bay company berth at the Navy pier. The ship is due about 4 p. m. and will cruise up Chicago river as far as Michigan avenue bridge. An invited list of Chicago guests will be taken for a cruise about 5, returning at 7:30.

The Milwaukee Clipper is 361 feet in overall length and 45 feet at the beam. She is of all steel construction and is said to be equipped with every modern device for safety. Passenger capacity is between 900 and 1,000.

PACKARD UNION PLANS STRIKE TO GET PAY BOOST

Detroit, Mich., May 25 (AP).—A strike against the Packard Motor Car company was threatened today to enforce a demand of the United Automobile Workers [CIO] for a pay raise of 10 cents an hour. Present wage rates were not disclosed.

Union spokesmen said members of the Packard local had voted at a massmeeting to authorize filing of the statutory five day notice of intent to strike. A walkout at Packard would affect about 9,500 employés if defense work—chiefly airplane motor production—is halted as well as regular automotive production.

Situation in Ship Area.

San Francisco, Cal., May 25 (AP).—The back to work movement gained momentum today among bay area shipyard workers, but there was a possibility that another plant—the 12th—might be involved before the trouble is finally settled. It was said the strike may spread to the Western Pipe and Steel company, which holds $24,000,000 of shipbuilding contracts.

JAPAN IS BUYING MORE HEAVILY IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, May 25 (AP).—Japan's purchases of Philippine products mounted sharply in April and observers said today they believed the cause was anticipation of the extension of export licensing to the islands.

Official statistics showed that Japanese purchases in the islands in April totaled $1,933,855, highest for several months. Philippine exports last month totaled $16,480,721.

Vast Holdings in Rayon Firm Offered Public

An underwriting group of 152 investment houses headed by Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., and Dillon, Read & Co., today will offer to the public 228,480 shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 1,568,000 shares of common stock of the American Viscose corporation.

With this offering, American investors will acquire ownership of a major producer of rayon in the United States. The corporation formerly was an American subsidiary of Courtaulds, Ltd., a British company, but in March 17 investment banking firms bought from the British treasury about 91 per cent of the stock of the corporation.

Prices $107.50 and $24.

The preferred stock is priced at $107.50 a share, plus accrued dividend from May 1, and the common stock at $24 a share. A dividend of $1.25 a share was declared on May 21 on the preferred stock and a dividend of 50 cents a share was voted on the common stock, both payable Aug. 1 to shareholders of record July 15.

At that time, it was announced that the directors expect to follow a policy of paying dividends which "are a reasonable proportion of the company's earnings consistent with maintaining a strong working capital position."

New Capital Structure.

Under recapitalization brought about after the purchase of the company from the British treasury, the new capital structure of the corporation consists of 251,940 authorized shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock, of which 250,693 are outstanding, and 2,000,000 authorized shares of common stock, of which 1,720,442 shares are outstanding.

Approximately 5 per cent of the new preferred and common stock has been retained by Courtaulds, Ltd.

STEEL SUPPLY RATIONING IS MORE DIFFICULT

Cleveland, O., May 25 (AP).—Rationing of steel for civilian use "becomes ever more of a problem and several steelmakers have expressed the wish that Washington lay down rules to govern them, the magazine Steel said today.

"Many cases are border line ones between direct armament and civilian use," the review said. "A maker of plates notified a maker of smokestacks that his delivery schedule would be postponed for a year, original specifications having named next September. The smokestack maker replied that some of his contracts were for industrial plants engaged largely in rearmament."

Steel ingot production rose ½ point last week to 100 per cent of estimated capacity.

PREFERRED AND COMMON STOCKS Preferred stockholders are entitled upon voluntary dissolution of the Corporation to $115 per share plus accrued dividends, and upon involuntary dissolution to $100 per share plus accrued dividends, before any distribution to any other stockholders. Preferred stockholders have no preemptive rights to subscribe to any class of securities. On or before May 1 in each year, a purchase fund (not to exceed $500,000 in any year) to retire Preferred Stock is to be provided out of net income in excess of $5,000,000 in the preceding year available for dividends on the Common Stock. Preferred stockholders are entitled to one vote per share and to certain special voting rights as specified in the Certificate of Incorporation.

Common stockholders have preemptive rights to subscribe to any Common Stock, or to any securities convertible into Common Stock, sold or offered for cash (with the exception of 100,000 shares of Common Stock if sold, offered or optioned to officers, directors or employees of the Corporation). Common stockholders are entitled to one vote per share.

PURCHASE AND UNDERWRITING The 17 corporations and firms named in the Offering Prospectus (referred to as Purchasers), by a Purchase Agreement dated March 15, 1941 purchased severally from the British Treasury an aggregate of 448,000 shares (out of a total of 494,000 issued shares) of the old common stock of the Corporation which the British Treasury had acquired from Courtaulds, Limited. Upon the recapitalization of the Corporation effective May 12, 1941, the Purchasers became the holders of the 228,480 shares of Preferred Stock and the 1,568,000 shares of Common Stock being offered.

Under such Purchase Agreement the Purchasers are obligated to pay to the British Treasury out of the total Proceeds to the Purchasers set forth below an amount computed to be approximately $17,892,923 which is in addition to the amount of the initial payment of $36,456,000 made by the Purchasers to the British Treasury on April 16, 1941. The total amounts received and to be received by the British Treasury from the sale to the Purchasers are therefore estimated to be $54,348,923. Of the balance of such total Proceeds to the Purchasers, after deducting amounts estimated at $400,000 for expenses and $290,472 to be received by Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated and $290,472 to be received by Dillon, Read & Co. as compensation for their services as Joint Managers under the Purchase Agreement, the Purchasers will retain, in addition to an amount equal to said initial payment to the British Treasury, the estimated amount of $2,764,533. The above amounts to be received by the British Treasury and to be retained by the Purchasers are exclusive of approximately $95,000 and $5,000, respectively, on account of accrued dividends on the Preferred Stock. The Purchasers will also be Underwriters and as such will, upon completion of the sale to the public as planned, receive portions of the underwriting discounts and commissions set forth below in respect of their commitments as Underwriters and in respect of retail sales made by them.

Subject to certain conditions, the Purchasers have agreed to sell to the several Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus the 228,480 shares of Preferred Stock for $23,990,400, plus accrued dividends from May 1, 1941, and the 1,568,000 shares of Common Stock for $34,104,000, or total Proceeds to the Purchasers of $58,094,400. The Preferred Stock is to be offered to the public at $107.50 per share or a total of $24,561,600, plus accrued dividends from May 1, 1941, and the Common Stock at $24. per share or a total of $37,632,000. The underwriting discounts and commissions are $2.50 per share for the Preferred Stock and $2.25 per share for the Common Stock, or a total of $4,099,200.

PRICES

Preferred Stock $107.50 per Share
plus accrued dividends from May 1, 1941

Common Stock $24. per Share

The Underwriters, including those named below and the others named in the Offering Prospectus, have agreed to purchase the Preferred and Common Stocks, subject, among other conditions, to the approval of certain legal matters by Messrs. Davis Polk Wardwell Gardiner & Reed and Messrs. Wright, Gordon, Zachry, Parlin & Cahill, as counsel for the Underwriters. It is expected that delivery of temporary certificates for the Preferred and Common Stocks will be made at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. Incorporated on or about June 3, 1941, but not later than June 10, 1941, against payment therefor in New York funds.

TO FACILITATE THE OFFERING, IT IS INTENDED TO STABILIZE THE PRICES OF THE OUTSTANDING PREFERRED AND COMMON STOCKS. THIS STATEMENT IS NOT AN ASSURANCE THAT THE PRICES OF THE ABOVE SECURITIES WILL BE STABILIZED OR THAT THE STABILIZING, IF COMMENCED, MAY NOT BE DISCONTINUED AT ANY TIME.

LITTLE BUSINESS FEELS BETRAYED IN ARMS PROGRAM

Gets Snub from New Deal, Its So-Called 'Friend.'

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—The national capital is ringing with the protests of little business men that once again, under the 40 billion dollar arms program, little business has been betrayed by its professed best friend, the New Deal.

Little business men are getting the run around in the distribution of contracts. The New Deal is playing ball with the vested interests it attacks verbally, by giving big business both the lion's and the mouse's share of arms contracts.

Hotel lobbies and government buildings echo with the protests of little business men over the treatment they receive after they have journeyed to Washington to make their contribution to the national rearmament program.

Kowtow to Big Operators.

Big business is called to Washington to accept huge contracts running into hundreds of millions of dollars. The big business man is not asked to bid against other big operators. He is invited down, shown every courtesy and then asked to accept a negotiated contract.

On the other hand the little business man, who is moved by patriotism to make a contribution to the national program, finds no welcome. The doors of government buildings are locked against him. He must identify himself, submit to questioning as involved as a quiz program and prove his Americanism before he is permitted inside the war and navy departments to offer his contribution to national security.

Entangled in Red Tape.

Once inside he finds no welcome. He circulates amon the small fry and and treads the jungles of red tape.

THE TRIBUNE herewith presents the stories of half a dozen business men, who have asked that their names be withheld so they may not be barred forever from the hope of getting some government contracts.

A RADIO TUBE MANUFACTURER:

"I came here to sell my radio tubes, which the signal corps is purchasing from jobbers, direct to the government in the belief that I could help my country by eliminating the middle man's charges.

"After four days I finally succeeded in reaching a colonel who refused to talk purchases with me because I could not present evidence that the army had tested and approved my tubes, altho the army is using the tubes.

"I am going home."

A MANUFACTURING TAILOR:

"I offered to make army coats for which the army is paying $10.50 at $7.50. Instead of dealing with me, the army called in the firm that is making the coats at $10.50 and asked them to cut their price."

A MACHINE SHOP OPERATOR:

"I walked 20,000 miles of corridor for five weeks and wore out the seats of two suits—each with two pair of pants—before I got the blue prints for a shell casing on which I wanted to bid.

"Now I've got to take them home and study them, so I can bid. If the army would have told me what they are willing to pay, I could have been in production a month ago."

A DRILL PRESS MANUFACTURER:

"I carried a catalog of my drill presses over to the war department when I was offering my wares. At the door a fellow who spoke English with a foreign accent studied every page and then asked me whether the pictures were of infernal machines.

"I had to prove that the pictures were not of machines which would blow up the building and prove that the army needed such machines before he would even let me in to tell my story."

REPRESENTATIVE OF A SMALL AUTOMOBILE PLANT:

"I've been here 11 days shuttling back and forth between the Office of Production Management and the war and navy departments. My company makes a good truck and a good car. Everybody admits that, but I can't get any orders because my plant is classed with a ZBQ rating against an XPM rating, whatever either of them means.

"All I know is that I am out of luck, while the big manufacturers are getting negotiated contracts. I wish I knew how to get one of these negotiated contracts. I'd even like to see one."

SMALL SHOE MANUFACTURER:

"All I know is that I can make shoes and the army needs shoes. Even in this modern kind of war, a soldier has to have shoes to step on the gas of the new war buggies.

"Well, I've worn out a year's profits trying to find the guy that will buy them. I've met almost everybody else in the army, but I still have to meet the shoe buyer."

TAX BILL PLACED AT 30 PER CENT OF NATION'S INCOME

New York, May 25 [Special].—The national tax bill for the 1941-'42 fiscal year, including state and local collections, will amount to nearly 22 billion dollars, or about 30 per cent of the national income for the calendar year 1940, on the basis of the present revenue program in Washington, the Guaranty Trust company of New York reported today.

"The drastic increases in federal tax rates proposed by the treasury have confronted the American people with the first definite indication of the scope of the sacrifices that must be made in meeting the cost of national defense," the article said. "Altho some specific features of the treasury's plan have been criticized, no voice has been raised against its main objective—an aggregate increase of $3,500,000,000 in federal taxes."

LARGE INCREASE IN FURNISHINGS TRADE REPORTED

April business of home furnishings wholesalers at the Merchandise Mart was 17.3 per cent larger than in the preceding month and 31.9 per cent larger than in April, 1940, Percy Wilson, managing director of the mart, reported yesterday.

Wilson attributed the increased volume to a tendency of retailers to follow a "buy now" policy in an effort to protect themselves against supply uncertainties, rising prices, and manufacturers' unwillingness to accept orders far in advance.
